UNITED STATES' RESPONSE TO § 2255 MOTION

COMES NOW the United States of America, by and through its attorney, Leura G. Canary, United States Attorney, and, in compliance with this Court's order, responds to Defendant/Movant David Franklin Cotney's ("Cotney's") Motion Under § 2255 to Vacate, Set Aside, Or Correct Sentence By a Person In Federal Custody, as follows:

I. PROCEDURAL HISTORY AND RELEVANT FACTS

1. On April 2, 2003, a federal grand jury indicted Cotney for conspiring to manufacture 50 grams or more of methamphetamine and for using a firearm in furtherance of that conspiracy, all in violation of Title 21, United States Code, Section 846, and Title 18, United States Code, Section 924(c)(1). Exh. 1 (attached, indictment). On May 28, 2003, Cotney pled guilty to both counts of the indictment, pursuant to a plea agreement reached in this case. Exh. 2, 3 (attached, plea agreement, transcript of change of plea hearing). On October 15, 2003, this Court sentenced Cotney to a term of imprisonment of 342 months, which took into account a 3-level downward departure, filed for by the United States, in recognition of Cotney's substantial assistance to the United States. Exh. 4, 5 (attached, judgment, transcript of sentencing hearing).

2. Cotney appealed the sentence imposed in his case, which the Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit affirmed. United States v. Cotney, 120 Fed. Appx. 785 (Table) (11th Cir. 2004) (Exh. 6, attached). On remand from the United States Supreme Court, in light of United States v. Booker, 543 U.S. 220 (2005), the Eleventh Circuit reaffirmed Cotney's sentence because he failed to assert error based on Apprendi v. New Jersey, 530 U.S. 466 (2000), or its progeny, in his initial brief on appeal. United States v. Cotney, 143 Fed. Appx. 290 (11th Cir. 2005) (Exh. 7, attached). The Eleventh Circuit issued its mandate in this case on October 11, 2005. Exh. 8 (attached, judgment). On January 9, 2006, the United States Supreme Court denied Cotney's petition for a writ of certiorari. Cotney v. United States, ___ U.S. ___, 126 S.Ct. 1119 (2006).

3. On January 9, 2007,<sup>1</sup> Cotney timely<sup>2</sup> filed this Motion to Vacate, Set Aside or Correct Sentence. On January 17, 2007, this Court entered an order directing the United States to respond within thirty days.

II. CLAIMS RAISED IN THE § 2255 MOTION

- 4. In his § 2255 motion, Cotney appears to claim the following:
  - a. that he was denied the effective assistance of counsel because this Court awarded him a 3-level downward departure for substantial assistance to the Government, although, he claims, a downward departure of 25-50 percent is customary;
  - b. that his rights to due process and effective assistance of counsel were violated when he was convicted and sentenced for “conspiracy ‘to manufacture 50 grams or more of methamphetamine,’ when he was, in fact, guilty only of a lesser included offense under 21 U.S.C. § 841(b)(1)(B);”
  - c. that his “rights to due process and proof beyond a reasonable doubt with respect to the quantity of methamphetamine for which he was sentenced were violated when the sentencing judge, utiliz[ed]...U.S.S.G. § 2D1.11 rather than U.S.S.G. § 2D1.1;"

d. that he was deprived of due process and effective assistance of counsel when this Court included an enhancement for obstruction of justice in the sentence it imposed on Cotney;

e. that he was deprived of due process and effective assistance of counsel when this Court included an enhancement for an aggravating role in the offense in the sentence it imposed on Cotney; and,

f. that the Government breached the plea agreement in Cotney's case when the court sentenced him to ten years imprisonment on Count 2 (firearms charge), and his trial counsel was ineffective for not objecting to that sentence.

III. RESPONSE TO CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

5. Ineffective Assistance of Counsel. Each of Cotney's claims challenges his counsels' effectiveness in some form or fashion. To succeed on a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel, Cotney must prove both that his counsels' performance was deficient and that the deficient performance prejudiced his case. Strickland v. Washington, 466 U.S. 668, 694 (1984); see also, Bell v. Cone, 535 U.S. 685, 697-98

(2002) (reaffirming the Strickland standard for reviewing ineffective assistance of counsel claims); Caderno v. United States, 256 F.3d 1213, 1217 (11th Cir. 2001) (applying two-part Strickland test). More specifically, Cotney must show that (1) identified acts or omissions of counsel fell below an objective standard of reasonableness, and (2) that his counsels' alleged errors or omissions resulted in prejudice to him to such an extent that, without counsels' alleged errors or omissions, there is a reasonable probability that the outcome of the proceeding would have been different. Yordan v. Dugger, 909 F.2d 474, 477 (11th Cir. 1990).

6. In analyzing counsels' performance under the performance prong of Strickland, conduct of counsel must be presumed to be reasonable. Yordan, 909 F.2d at 477. A “[d]efendant must prove deficient performance by a preponderance of competent evidence, and the standard is ‘reasonableness under prevailing professional norms.’” Gallo-Chamorro v. United States, 233 F.3d 1298, 1303-04 (11th Cir. 2000) (footnotes omitted). The Eleventh Circuit has described a defendant's burden with regard to the deficient performance prong of an ineffective assistance of counsel claim as follows:

Because there is such a wide range of constitutionally acceptable performance, a petitioner seeking to rebut the presumption of adequate performance must bear a heavy burden:

The test has nothing to do with what the best lawyers would have done.

Nor is the test even what most good lawyers would have done. We ask only whether some reasonable lawyer at the trial could have acted, in the circumstances, as defense counsel acted at trial. ... We are not interested in grading lawyers' performances; we are interested in whether the adversarial process at trial, in fact, worked adequately.

. . . Thus, in order to show that counsel's performance was unreasonable, the petitioner must establish that no competent counsel would have taken the action that his counsel did take....

Grayson v. Thompson, 257 F.3d 1194, 1216 (11th Cir. 2001) (internal citations omitted).

7. A defendant's burden in demonstrating that his counsel's deficient performance prejudiced his case is "high;" it is not enough to show that any errors had some conceivable effect on the outcome of the proceeding. Robinson v. Moore, 300 F.3d 1320, 1343-44 (11th Cir. 2002). To succeed on the ineffective assistance of counsel claim, the defendant must show that, but for counsel's unprofessional errors, the outcome of the proceeding would have been different.

8. "It is well established that a habeas petitioner must demonstrate both deficient performance and prejudice, and that a failure to demonstrate either prong constitutes a failure to demonstrate ineffective assistance of counsel." Bottoson v. Moore, 234 F.3d 526, 532 (11th Cir. 2000); accord, Robinson, 300 F.3d at 1343. In raising ineffective assistance of counsel, Cotney has failed to plead facts sufficient to demonstrate that he was prejudiced by any of counsels' actions. For that reason, his § 2255 motion should be summarily dismissed. The United States responds to Cotney's ineffective assistance of counsel claims as follows:

a. Claim 1. Cotney makes the bald assertion, without supporting facts, that it is customary for a defendant to receive a 25-50 percent reduction in his sentence when a motion for a downward departure for substantial assistance is granted. Cotney has presented no evidence that this Court was required to reduce his sentence by 25 to 50 percent. In fact, this Court has complete discretion to determine the amount any sentence should be reduced when the Government moves for a downward departure based on a defendant's substantial assistance. 18 U.S.C. § 3553(e), U.S.S.G. § 5K1.1(a). Cotney has not shown that had his counsel argued that a 25-50 percent reduction was customary, then this Court would have been bound to reduce his sentence by that amount. Accordingly, Cotney has failed to meet his burden of establishing his counsel was deficient, or that any perceived deficiency prejudiced him.

b. Claim 2. Cotney's claim regarding drug quantity is without merit. First, Cotney himself admitted that it was his intent to produce the threshold statutory quantity of 50 grams of methamphetamine. Exh. 3, at 11:1-9. The statutory sentencing range that corresponds to a minimum quantity of 50 grams is from 10 years to life imprisonment. 21 U.S.C. § 841(b)(1)(A). Cotney contends he should be sentenced in accordance with 21 U.S.C. § 841(b)(1)(B), which corresponds to methamphetamine quantities between 5 and 50 grams; that sentencing range would be not less than 5 years, and not more than 40 years (or 480 months) imprisonment. Cotney's sentence in this matter was 324 months, which is within the range in which Cotney contends he was entitled to be sentenced. Further, contrary to Cotney's contention, this Court did not apply the guidelines sentence which corresponds to actual drug amounts (2D1.1) but instead used the guidelines section which corresponds to precursor chemicals that Cotney actually possessed (2D1.11). Exh. 5, at 173:10-174:7. The resulting sentencing guidelines level (32) was lower than the Government's requested guidelines level (34). Id. at 174:5-7. And, it is clear that this Court considered the issue that Cotney now claims his lawyers failed to raise. Id. 172:1-174:7. Accordingly, Cotney has failed to meet his burden of establishing his counsel was deficient, or that any perceived deficiency prejudiced him.

c. Claim 3. The United States adopts the same argument as it made in response to Claim 2, paragraph 8(b), supra. In addition, this Court employed the approved method that most "simply and directly [calculates] the base offense level" for drug offenses. United States v. Blaylock, 275 F.3d 1030, 1031, cert. denied, 535 U.S. 1043 (2002). Additionally, the United States reiterates that Cotney benefitted from this Court's calculation using § 2D1.11 (level 32) rather than using § 2D1.1

(level 34). Id., at 174:5-7. Accordingly, Cotney has failed to meet his burden of establishing his counsel was deficient, or that any perceived deficiency prejudiced him.

d. Claim 4. The Eleventh Circuit has previously ruled on this issue, finding that the facts in Cotney's case supported an enhancement for obstruction of justice. Exh. 6, at 4-5. Cotney's lawyers not only raised this issue on appeal, but they thoroughly cross-examined the witnesses who testified at the sentencing hearing about this issue. Exh. 5, at 73:3-82:1. Furthermore, Cotney himself was examined on the issue at length at the sentencing hearing, and his counsel argued the point at the conclusion of that hearing. Id., at 117:1-125:23, 147:4-13. Accordingly, Cotney has failed to meet his burden of establishing his counsel was deficient, or that any perceived deficiency prejudiced him.

e. Claim 5. The gist of Cotney's claim with regard to an aggravating role enhancement is that his lawyers failed to object to testimony on this point at the sentencing hearing on the grounds that such testimony violated the Confrontation Clause. See Crawford v. Washington, 541 U.S. 36 (2004). Cotney's reliance on Crawford is misplaced. The Confrontation Clause affords a criminal defendant a trial right. United States v. Cantellano, 430 F.3d 1142, 1146 (11th Cir. 2005), cert. denied, ___ U.S. ___, 126 S.Ct. 1604 (2006), quoting Pennsylvania v. Ritchie, 480 U.S. 39, 52 (1987). It “is not a sentencing right.” Id. Thus, Crawford does not apply to non-capital sentencing hearings. Id. Accordingly, Cotney has failed to meet his burden of establishing his counsel was deficient, or that any perceived deficiency prejudiced him.

f. Claim 6. Finally, Cotney’s claim that the Government breached the plea agreement is without merit. Cotney claims, without any support, that the Government agreed not to argue that Cotney’s discharge of the firearm that he possessed in this case warranted a 10 year sentence pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 924(c)(1)(A)(iii). The plea agreement reached in this case includes no such agreement. Exh. 2. The agreement was read to Cotney by his lawyers, and Cotney signed it. Exh. 2, Exh. 9, at 4 (attached, affidavit of Brenton Lawrence Dean, Esq.), Exh. 10, at 4 (attached, affidavit of Will O. Walton, III). Whether Cotney discharged the firearm is a sentencing factor, not requiring proof at trial or that it be set forth in the indictment. Harris v. United States, 536 U.S. 545, 556 (2002). Based on the discharge issue being a sentencing factor, contrary to Cotney’s assertion, his lawyers reserved the right to argue this issue at sentencing. Exh. 9, at 4, Exh. 10, at 4. Finally, Cotney, himself, testified that he shot the shotgun he possessed in this case. Exh. 5, at 120:1-12, 123:4-125:22. Accordingly, Cotney has failed to meet his burden of establishing his counsel was deficient, or that any perceived deficiency prejudiced

IV. A HEARING IS NOT NECESSARY IN THIS MATTER

Cotney has not pleaded facts or presented sufficient evidence or argument which, if true, show that he is entitled to an evidentiary hearing, and his claims for relief should be denied without an evidentiary hearing. See Blackledge v. Allison, 431 U.S. 63, 73-74 (1977); Tejada v. Dugger, 941 U.S. 1551, 1559 (11th Cir. 1991); United States v. Laetividal-Gonzalez, 939 F. 2d 1455, 1465 (11th Cir. 1991). Sufficient evidence, in the form of the attached Government exhibits, including affidavits from both of Cotney's lawyers, exists to rule upon the claims made by Cotney. Should this Court determine that Cotney addressed in this response, the United States requests the opportunity to further respond to those arguments.

V. CONCLUSION

For the above reasons, Cotney has failed to demonstrate that he is entitled to any relief from this Court, thus, the United States respectfully requests his § 2255 motion be denied without an evidentiary hearing.

Respectfully submitted this 15th day of February, 2007.

does not require the defendant to implicate any other particular individual or individuals or to "make a case," rather it requires the defendant to be truthful and to testify truthfully whenever called upon. The defendant agrees to be available for the review of documents and other materials and for interviews by law enforcement officers and attorneys for the Government upon reasonable request and to fully and truthfully respond to all questions asked of the defendant by law enforcement officers and attorneys for the Government. The defendant agrees to fully and truthfully disclose to the Government everything the defendant knows about any and all documents and materials in the defendant's possession that relate to the violations charged in this Indictment and any other criminal violations in the Middle District of Alabama and elsewhere. The defendant agrees, if desired by the Government, to travel with agents outside the Middle District of Alabama to identify others involved in Defendant's narcotics organization, locations and/or residences of others involved, or any other information related to others involved in this narcotics trafficking activity. The defendant agrees to submit to a polygraph examination conducted by the Government if requested to do so.

Provided that the defendant satisfies the terms of this Plea Agreement, any information that the defendant truthfully discloses to the Government during the course of the defendant's cooperation, concerning related offenses, will not be used against the defendant, directly or indirectly. The defendant understands that this agreement does not bar the defendant's prosecution for capital felonies, perjury, false statements, and/or obstruction of justice.

If the defendant has failed or should fail in any way to fulfill completely the defendant's obligations under this agreement, then the Government will be released from its commitment to honor all of its obligations to the defendant, without the defendant being allowed to withdraw the guilty plea. Thus, if at any time the defendant should knowingly and willfully withhold evidence from, or is found to have provided false information to, the Government investigators or attorneys prior to or during the defendant's testimony before grand juries or in trials, or fails to return to the Middle District of Alabama for any scheduled court appearance or any scheduled meeting with law enforcement agents in the Middle District of Alabama, then the Government will be free: (1) to prosecute the defendant for perjury, false declaration, false statement, and/or obstruction of justice (18 U.S.C. §§ 1621, 1623, 1001, 1503); (2) to prosecute the defendant for all violations of federal criminal law which the defendant has committed; (3) to use against the defendant in all of those prosecutions and sentencing the information and documents that the defendant has disclosed or furnished to the Government during the course of the defendant's cooperation; (4) to recommend a maximum sentence; and, (5) to seek forfeiture of any and all forfeitable properties of the defendant. The parties agree to submit to the court, to be decided by a preponderance of the evidence standard, the question of whether defendant has breached this agreement.

DEFENDANT'S UNDERSTANDING AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

4. The defendant, before entering a plea of guilty to Counts 1 and 2, as provided for herein by said Plea Agreement, advises the Court that:

a. The discussions between the attorney for the Government and the attorney for the defendant towards reaching an agreed plea in this case have taken place with the defendant's authorization and consent.

b. The defendant further understands that, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3013, said $100.00 assessment fee is to be paid by the defendant on the date of sentencing and that, if a fine is imposed by the Court at sentencing, the defendant shall meet with a member of the Financial Litigation Section of the United States Attorney's Office on the day of sentencing and complete a written personal financial statement setting forth the defendant's assets and liabilities as of the date of the offense. The defendant will make an honest, good faith effort to pay said fine as directed by the Financial Litigation Section of the United States Attorney's Office. The defendant further understands that by completing the financial statement, the defendant is representing that it is true and accurate to the best of the defendant's information, knowledge, and belief.

c. The defendant understands that the defendant has a right to be represented by an attorney at every stage of the proceedings against the defendant herein and is represented by the defendant's undersigned attorney.

d. The defendant understands that the defendant has the right to plead not guilty and has the right to be tried by a jury and, at a trial thereof, has the right to the assistance of counsel, the right to confront and cross-examine witnesses against the defendant, the right to call witnesses in the defendant's own behalf, and the right not to be compelled to incriminate the defendant, and that if the defendant enters a plea of guilty herein, there will not be a further trial of any kind and that by the entry of such a plea, the defendant waives the right to a trial by jury or to a trial before the Court.

e. The defendant further understands that in entering a plea of guilty herein, the Court may ask questions about the offense to which the plea is entered and further understands that if the defendant answers these questions under oath, on the record, and in the presence of counsel, which questions and answers would be recorded, that the answers may later be used against the defendant in a prosecution for perjury or false statement if the answers are not truthful.

f. The Defendant further understands and advises the Court that the Plea Agreement as set forth herein and the plea to be entered by the defendant as a result thereof is voluntary on the defendant's part and is not the result of any force or threats or of any promises apart from the aforesaid Plea Agreement. The defendant further advises the Court that the Plea Agreement set forth herein is the result of prior discussions between the attorney for the Government and the attorney for the defendant, all conducted with the defendant's authorization, knowledge, and consent.

g. The defendant further advises the Court that the defendant's understanding of this Plea Agreement is as set forth in this document.

h. The defendant further understands that the Government can only make a recommendation, which is not binding upon the Court.

i. The defendant further advises the Court that the defendant understands and has been advised that evidence of a plea of guilty, later withdrawn or an offer to plead guilty to the crime charged in the Indictment herein, or of statements made in connection with and relevant to said plea or offer to plead, shall not be admissible in any civil or criminal proceedings against the defendant. However, the defendant does understand that evidence of a statement made in connection with and relevant to a plea of guilty, later withdrawn, or an offer to plead guilty to the crimes charged in the Indictment herein, is admissible in a criminal proceeding for perjury or false statement when the statement was made by the defendant under oath, on the court record, and in the presence of counsel.

j. The defendant understands that there is no possibility of a sentence of probation.

k. The defendant is satisfied that defense counsel has been competent and effective in representing defendant.

5. The undersigned attorneys for the Government and for the defendant represent to the court that the foregoing Plea Agreement is the agreement of the parties that has been reached pursuant to the Plea Agreement procedure provided for in Rule 11(c)(1)(B), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, as Amended. The attorney for the defendant further advises the Court that the defendant has been advised of the nature of the charge to which the foregoing described plea is to be offered, and that the defendant has been advised of the defendant's right to plead not guilty and to be tried by a jury on all issues herein; of the maximum possible penalty provided by law; that by the entering of a plea of guilty as aforesaid, the defendant waives the right to be tried by a jury or by the Court, waives the right to confront and cross-examine witnesses against the defendant and the right not to be compelled to incriminate the defendant; and that if the defendant pleads guilty, there will not be a further trial of any kind. Further, the defendant has been advised that if the defendant pleads guilty, the Court may ask questions about the offense to which the defendant has pleaded and that if the plea is rejected or later withdrawn, that the answers to such questions may not be used against the defendant in a civil or criminal proceeding, but that the defendant's answers may later be used against the defendant in a prosecution for perjury or false statement if the answers are not truthful.

6. The defendant understands that the U.S. Probation Office will prepare a presentence investigation report for the Court. The Probation Officer will consider the defendant's conduct related to the offense to which the plea is offered, as well as the defendant's criminal history. The offense level or criminal history category, as calculated by the Probation Officer and determined by the court, may differ from that projected by defendant's counsel or the U.S. Attorney.

1     THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, have you recently been treated 2     for any mental illness or addiction to narcotic drugs of any 3     kind? 4     THE DEFENDANT: No, sir. 5     THE COURT: Are you currently under the influence of 6     any drugs, medicine, pills, or alcoholic beverage? 7     THE DEFENDANT: No, sir. 8     THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, you are now under oath. You 9     should understand that during this proceeding you will be asked 10    questions first by the Court and by your lawyer and by the 11    United States attorney. If you give false answers to any of 12    those questions, those answers may later be used against you in 13    a prosecution for perjury or for giving false answers. Do you 14    understand that? 15    THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 16    THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, you have the right to have your 17    guilty plea heard, taken, and considered by the next higher 18    ranking judge. That's a United States district judge. However, 19    you may consent to my taking your plea this morning. Have you 20    talked about that with Mr. Walton? 21    THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 22    THE COURT: All right. Do you want me to take your 23    plea? 24    THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 25    THE COURT: All right. For that purpose, then, you	3	1     THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 2     THE COURT: And do you understand the terms of the plea 3     agreement? 4     THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 5     THE COURT: Is this the only agreement which you have 6     with the United States? 7     THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 8     THE COURT: Other than this plea agreement, has anyone 9     made any promise to you to get you to plead guilty in this case? 10    THE DEFENDANT: No, sir. 11    THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, if the Court chooses to not 12    follow the terms of the plea agreement -- because the Court is 13    not bound by anything in the plea agreement -- you will not have 14    the right to withdraw your plea of guilty. Mr. Cotney, you are entering a 21    plea of guilty to count one, which is a count charging you with 22    conspiracy to manufacture methamphetamine, and count two, which 23    is a charge that you used, carried, or possessed a firearm in 24    furtherance of a drug trafficking crime. Those offenses are 25    felony offenses. If your plea is accepted, you will be	5

1 adjudicated guilty of those offenses; and that adjudication may      2 deprive you of valuable civil rights, such as the right to vote,      3 the right to hold public office, the right to serve on a jury,      4 and the right to possess any kind of firearm. Do you understand      5 that? 6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 7 THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, with respect to the charge of      8 conspiracy to manufacture methamphetamine, the maximum      9 punishment for that crime is a term of imprisonment of not less      10 than ten years nor more than life, a fine of not more than $4      11 million, or both the fine and the term of imprisonment. Upon      12 release from any imprisonment, you will be subject to a period      13 of supervised release of not less than five years, and you would      14 be required to pay to the Court an assessment fee of $500. Do      15 you understand the maximum punishment for conspiracy? 16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 17 THE COURT: With respect to the maximum punishment for      18 using, carrying, or possessing a firearm in furtherance of a      19 drug trafficking offense, the maximum term of imprisonment is a      20 term of imprisonment of not less than five years, which is to      21 run consecutive to any other term of imprisonment imposed on      22 you, a fine of not more than $250,000, or both the fine and the      23 imprisonment. After release from any imprisonment, you will be      24 subject to a period of supervised release of not less -- or not      25 more than three years, and you would be required to pay to the	6	1 or less severe than called for by the guidelines. Do you      2 understand that? 3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes. 4 THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, parole has been abolished. And      5 if you are sentenced to a term of imprisonment, you will be not      6 be released on parole. Do you understand that? 7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 8 THE COURT: Now, I have read the plea agreement.      9 Correct me if I am wrong, but there appears to be no waiver of      10 any right to appeal the sentence imposed in this case. 11 MS. HARDWICK: That's correct, Your Honor. 12 THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, you have the right to appeal      13 any sentence that is imposed on you; but also, under some      14 circumstances, the government can appeal a sentence imposed on      15 you. Do you understand that? 16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 17 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Cotney, with respect to      18 these charges, you have the right to plead not guilty and to      19 persist in that plea. You would then have the right to a trial      20 by jury at which you would be presumed innocent and the      21 government would be required to prove your guilt beyond a      22 reasonable doubt. At that trial, you would have the right to      23 the assistance of counsel for your defense, the right to see and      24 hear all witnesses and have them cross-examined in your      25 defense. Mr. Cotney, the Court will not      13 be able to determine the guideline sentence for your case until      14 after a presentence report has been prepared and after you and      15 the government both have an opportunity to review that report      16 and to challenge any facts or the application of those facts to      17 the guidelines. Do you understand that? 16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 17 THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, with respect to the conspiracy      18 charge, at that trial the government would be required to prove      19 beyond a reasonable doubt that you and at least one other person      20 in some way or manner came to a mutual understanding to try to      21 accomplish a common and unlawful plan as charged in the      22 indictment, which specifies the manufacture of 50 grams or more      23 of methamphetamine, and second, that you, knowing the unlawful      24 purpose of the plan, willfully joined in it. 25 With respect to the second count to which you are	9

1 entering a plea of guilty, the government would be required to 2 prove beyond a reasonable doubt that you committed a drug 3 trafficking offense of conspiracy -- that's the first count -- 4 to manufacture methamphetamine and that during and in relation 5 to the commission of that offense you used, carried, or 6 possessed a firearm and that you did so knowingly. 7 Do you understand what the government would be required 8 to prove at trial?		1 at that time? 2 A. Yes, ma'am. 3 MS. HARDWICK: Your Honor, we believe that those facts 4 are sufficient to sustain a conviction in this case. 5 THE COURT: Mr. Walton, would you agree? 6 MR. WALTON: I do. 7 THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, I have told you the rights 8 which you have and the rights which you give up by entering a 9 plea of guilty to the charges against you contained in count one 10 and count two of the indictment. Is it still your desire to 11 enter a guilty plea to those charges?
9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. 10 THE COURT: Before I can accept your plea, there must 11 be a factual basis for my doing so. Who wishes to assist the 12 Court with that? 13 MS. HARDWICK: Your Honor, the government can assist 14 the Court with that. 15 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Hardwick? 16 DAVID FRANKLIN COTNEY, JR., the defendant, having been 17 duly sworn, testified, as follows: 18 EXAMINATION 19 BY MS. HARDWICK: 20 Q. Mr. Cotney, on March the 24th of 2003, were you on the 21 property of Mr. Larry Bonner, which is located at 1191 Chambers 22 County Road 274 in Chambers County? 23 A. Yes, ma'am. 24 Q. Were you there with other persons? 25 A. Yes, ma'am.		12 THE DEFENDANT: Yes. 13 THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, to count one, conspiracy to 14 manufacture 50 grams or more of methamphetamine, how do you 15 plead? 16 THE DEFENDANT: Guilty. 17 THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, with respect to count two, that 18 during that offense, that you used, possessed, or carried a 19 firearm in furtherance of the drug trafficking crime, how do you 20 plead? 21 THE DEFENDANT: Guilty. 22 THE COURT: Mr. Cotney, the Court finds that you are 23 fully competent and capable of entering an informed plea, that 24 you are aware of the nature of the charges against you and the 25 consequences of your plea, and that your plea of guilty is a

1 Q. Were you there for the purpose of manufacturing together 2 methamphetamine? 3 A. Yes, ma'am. 4 Q. And were you in fact manufacturing methamphetamine on 5 Mr. Bonner's property? 6 A. Yes, ma'am. 7 Q. And was that manufacture 50 grams or more of 8 methamphetamine? 9 A. Yes, ma'am. 10 MS. HARDWICK: Your Honor, in reference to that, the 11 government -- 12 Q. Was that in the Middle District of Alabama? 13 A. Yes, ma'am. 14 MS. HARDWICK: In reference to that count, having 15 admitted those facts, the government would proceed to count two. 16 THE COURT: All right. 17 Q. Mr. Cotney, when law enforcement came onto the property in 18 Chambers County and began to apprehend, were you in the 19 possession of a 12-gauge pump shotgun? 20 A. Yes, ma'am. 21 Q. And the overall length of that shotgun was approximately 26 22 inches with a sawed-off barrel? 23 A. Yes, ma'am. 24 Q. And were you in the possession of that in furtherance of the 25 commission of the offense of manufacturing the methamphetamine		1 knowing and voluntary plea supported by an independent basis in 2 fact containing each of the essential elements of the offenses. 3 I will therefore recommend that your plea of guilty to count one 4 and count two of the indictment be accepted. You will be 5 continued in the same custody previously imposed on you. 6 Thank you, Mr. Walton. 7 MR. WALTON: Your Honor, may I be excused? 8 THE COURT: You may. 9 MS. HARDWICK: Your Honor, in reference, there is a 10 forfeiture allegation that is not part of the plea agreement, 11 and there is not a specific property listed. It lists a 12 substitute property. But we would ask whether or not the 13 defendant would consent to the forfeiture of any property that 14 the government finds was related at sentencing. 15 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Cotney, do you understand 16 that question? 17 MS. HARDWICK: If the government finds that there is 18 any property related to the manufacturing of the 19 methamphetamine, would you consent to the forfeiture of that -- 20 THE COURT: And when you say any property, you mean any 21 property in which he has possessory interest? 22 MS. HARDWICK: That he has ownership and possessory 23 interest. 24 MR. WALTON: To the extent we'd like to question it if 25 we think it's questionable, certainly.

STATEMENT OF REASONS
(Not for Public Disclosure)

The court adopts the factual findings and guideline application in the presentence report.

OR

The court adopts the factual findings and guideline application in the presentence report, except (see attachment, if necessary):

SEE ATTACHMENT B

Guideline Range Determined by the Court:

Total Offense Level: 39

Criminal History Category: II

Imprisonment Range: 292 to 365 months. Count 2 provides a sentence of not less than 10 yrs. consecutive to Ct. 1.

Supervised Release Range: 5 to 5 years for Count 1; 3 to 3 yrs., Ct. 2.

Fine Range: $ 25,000 to $ 4,000,000

Fine waived or below the guideline range because of inability to pay.

Total Amount of Restitution: $ to be determined

Discretionary restitution is not ordered because the complication and prolongation of the sentencing process resulting from the fashioning of a restitution order outweighs the need to provide restitution to any victims, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3663(a)(B)(ii) (or in offenses committed before April 23, 1996, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3663(d)).

Restitution pursuant to the mandatory victim restitution provisions is not ordered in this title 18 property offense because the number of identifiable victims is so large as to make restitution impracticable, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3663A(c)(3)(A).

Restitution pursuant to the mandatory victim restitution provisions is not ordered in this title 18 property offense because determining complex issues of fact and related to the cause of amount of the victim's losses would complicate or prolong the sentencing process to a degree that the need to provide restitution to any victim is outweighed by the burden on the sentencing process, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3663A(c)(3)(B).

For offenses committed on or after September 13, 1994 but before April 23, 1996 that require the total amount of loss to be stated, pursuant to Chapters 109A, 110, 110A, and 113A of Title 18, restitution is not ordered because the economic circumstances of the defendant do not allow for the payment of any amount of a restitution order, and do not allow for the payment of any or some portion of a restitution order in the foreseeable future under any reasonable schedule of payments.

Partial restitution is ordered, pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3553(c), for the following reason(s):

DEFENDANT: DAVID FRANKLIN COTNEY
CASE 3:03CR00078-001

STATEMENT OF REASONS
(Not for Public Disclosure)

The sentence is within the guideline range, that range does not exceed 24 months, and the court finds no reason to depart from the sentence called for by the application of the guidelines.

OR

The sentence is within the guideline range, that range exceeds 24 months, and the sentence is imposed for the following reasons:

OR

X The sentence departs from the guideline range:

X upon motion of the government, as a result of a defendant's substantial assistance, or for the following specific reason(s):

The sentence imposed is within the range of offense level 36, criminal history category II, and is the result of a 3 level departure from the offense level determined by the court. This creates a new guideline range of 210 months to 262 months for Count 1 and a fine range from $20,000 to $4,000,000.

Count 2 is a 10 year consecutive sentence to Count 1.

DEFENDANT: DAVID FRANKLIN COTNEY, JR.
CASE NUMBER: 3:03CR00078-001

ADDITIONAL FINDINGS AND GUIDELINES APPLICATIONS EXCEPTIONS

At the time of sentencing, the court made the following findings reflecting changes in the Presentence Report:

Paragraph 26 - Pursuant to 2D1.11, the base offense level is determined on the amount of pseudoephedrine. In this case, three containers were found containing 115.07 grams, 52.62 grams, and 62.01 grams, totaling 229.70 grams of pseudoephedrine. Pursuant to 2D1.11(d)(4), at least 100 grams but less than 300 grams of pseudoephedrine establish a base offense level of 32.

Paragraph 27 - 2D1.1(b)(5)(B) should not be applied because this manufacture of methamphetamine did not constitute a substantial risk of harm to a human life or the environment. Therefore, this enhancement of 3 points should not be applied.

The above findings result in the following changes:

Base offense level - 32
Total offense level - 39

6 (The following proceedings were heard before the Honorable 7 W. Harold Albritton, United States District Judge, at 8 Montgomery, Alabama, on Wednesday, October 15, 2003,
9 commencing at 10:07 a.m.:)

10 (Call to Order of the Court)

11 THE COURT: All right. We have three related cases --
12 three related sentencing in one case set for this morning. I'm 13 going to call each case first and inquire about whether the 14 objections are adequately stated in the presentence report, and 15 then we'll go from there.

16 United States of America versus David Franklin Cotney.
17 Is the government ready to proceed?

18 MR. BROWN: The government is ready, Your Honor. Good
19 afternoon.

20 THE COURT: Is the defendant ready?

21 MR. DEAN: We're ready, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: All right. United States of America versus 23 Allen Lee Nelson. Is the government ready on this one?

24 MR. BROWN: Yes, sir.

25 THE COURT: Is the defendant ready?

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 1 MR. LEWIS: Defendant is ready, Your Honor. 2 THE COURT: And United States of America versus 3 Jonathan Boyd Weldon. Is the government ready? 4 MR. BROWN: The government is ready, Your Honor. 5 THE COURT: Defendant ready? 6 MR. HALSTROM: Yes, Your Honor. We have amended our 7 objections since there was an addition of a firearms 8 enhancement. And we've got an objection to that which we are 9 making to the Court. And copies have been distributed to the 10 parties involved. 11 THE COURT: All right. Yes. I've received this this 12 morning. Now, you say you added what to this? 13 MR. HALSTROM: Your Honor, if you'll look on page -- 14 the second page of that handout or that filing, number 20, the 15 probation office has inserted an enhancement of two levels for 16 firearm possession. We are objecting to that. 17 THE COURT: All right. I thought that was already in 18 there. One thing I notice in here that I did not understand was 19 originally in, and that's an objection to a point for a juvenile 20 offense in number 26. 21 MR. HALSTROM: Yes, Your Honor. That was in the 22 original objection also. 23 THE COURT: Okay. 24 MR. HALSTROM: And that's merely because it's outside 25 the five-year limitation by the guidelines.	October 15, 2003 4 1 to be testimony offered on that, then I'll let all counsel raise 2 that objection at this time and cross-examine on that issue. 3 All right. Having said that, I'll call the case of 4 United States of America versus David Franklin Cotney. I'll ask 5 the defendant -- did you have something, Mr. Brown? 6 MR. BROWN: I was just going to call a witness. 7 THE COURT: All right. Let me finish. I'll call on 8 you in just a minute. 9 All right. I'll ask Defendant Cotney to stand. 10 (Defendant Cotney complies) 11 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Cotney, have you, and 12 Mr. Dean, have you, as defense counsel, reviewed the presentence 13 report, including any objections that may have been made after 14 the -- or rather, any revisions that may have been made after 15 the initial disclosure? 16 DEFENDANT COTNEY: Yes, sir. 17 THE COURT: And Mr. Dean, you have? 18 MR. DEAN: Yes, Your Honor. 19 THE COURT: All right. And I understand the objections 20 in this case to be as follows. Objection number one is the 21 defendant objects to the paragraph number 14 having to do with 22 the killing of the police dog on the basis that he has a legal 23 defense to that charge. 24 Objection number two is an objection to the probation 25 officer's report enhancing -- adding a two-point enhancement for

David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 1 THE COURT: All right. I'll look at that. All right. 2 Other than that, are your objections -- well, all of your 3 objections, then, are contained in this objection that you filed 4 this morning? 5 MR. HALSTROM: Yes, Your Honor. 6 THE COURT: All right. That's as to the Defendant 7 Weldon. 8 As to the Defendant Nelson, Mr. Lewis, are all your 9 objections properly stated in the presentence report? 10 MR. DEAN: They are, Your Honor. 14 THE COURT: Mr. Dean? They are? All right. 15 Now, there appears to be one issue that is the same in 16 all three of these cases. And in order to not repeat things on 17 them, I'm going to suggest that if there is any testimony that 18 the government presents, evidence by the government, on this 19 issue, that I'll allow defense counsel in all three cases to 20 cross-examine on this; and we will -- and I will consider that 21 testimony in all three cases. And that is the objection to the 22 enhancement for substantial risk to human life or environment. 23 That objection is made in all three cases. 24 So I'm going to call the case against David Franklin 25 Cotney first, and we'll proceed with that. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 1 calls Task Force Agent David DeJohn to the stand. 2 RAYMOND DAVID DeJOHN, the witness, having been duly 3 sworn, testified, as follows: 4 DIRECT EXAMINATION 5 BY MR. BROWN: 6 Q. Good morning. Would you state your name, please? 7 A. Task Force Agent Raymond David DeJohn. 8 Q. And would you mind spelling your last name for the court 9 reporter? 10 A. D-E, capital J-O-H-N. 11 Q. You said you're a task force agent. Would you tell Judge 12 Albritton where you are employed? 13 A. Yes. I'm employed by the City of Prattville Police 14 Department assigned to their narcotics division. I'm also 15 cross-designated as a federal task force agent assigned to the 16 Drug Enforcement Administration here in Montgomery. 17 Q. In regards to both of those jobs, have you had any 18 particular training as it relates to methamphetamine or 19 clandestine methamphetamine labs? 20 A. Yes, I have. 21 Q. Would you briefly explain what that training is and what a 22 clandestine lab is, to begin with? 23 A. Okay. A clandestine lab is a lab that -- a makeshift lab, 24 usually in someone's home or more isolated areas, used to make 25 illegal drugs, such as methamphetamine, LSD, fentanyl, different	October 15, 2003 8 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 1 and ensuring everybody's doing something properly. 2 Q. Just generally, you're familiar with this case, the 3 sentencing we're here on today with defendants by the last names 4 of Cotney, Weldon, and Nelson; is that correct? 5 A. That's correct. 6 Q. You participated in this case in several different aspects; 7 is that right? 8 A. That is correct. 9 Q. Was one of those aspects as site safety officer at the area? 10 A. No. I was not the site safety officer at the area, but I 11 was -- I was acting in that capacity assisting other agents. We 12 were just making sure everybody was taking care of themselves 13 properly while they were working at the lab site. 14 Q. Okay. How does that come about, generally, when you're -- 15 when you're contacted -- and this case happened in Chambers 16 County. You work in Montgomery and Prattville; is that right? 17 A. That's correct. 18 Q. How are you contacted when a clandestine laboratory has been 19 identified and they know that they need someone to come out 20 there? 21 A. Usually a local agency will contact the DEA. It just so 22 happens in this case, I was in the office on that particular 23 day. They explained to us the situation they had, and I was 24 acting as a responding clandestine laboratory officer, but I was 25 also responding as possible case agent.	October 15, 2003 10

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 1 type of drugs. 2 Q. Okay. And you have had some type of training as it relates 3 to clandestine laboratories? 4 A. Yes, I have. 5 Q. What is that training? 6 A. I attended state and local basic clandestine laboratory 7 investigations at Quantico, Virginia, the DEA Academy. I've 8 also attended DEA site safety officers school at Quantico, 9 Virginia, for clandestine labs. Basically, it authorizes me to 10 be a site safety officer in those situations. I've also 11 attended the DEA tactical entry school for clandestine labs, 12 also at Quantico, Virginia. 13 Q. Okay. As it relates to the site safety officer issue, what 14 are your responsibilities as a site safety officer? 15 A. As a site safety officer -- on a certain assignment, I could 16 be designated as the site safety officer who is responsible for 17 the particular area, making sure that agents are properly 18 decontaminated, making sure there's a secure area around the 19 crime scene, just taking responsibility of the -- basically, the 20 decontamination of the area. 21 Q. Okay. Do you actually do the decontamination, or do you 22 coordinate that, or how does it work? 23 A. Sometimes we'll coordinate it or I'll participate in it. 24 Usually if I'm a site safety officer, I will not participate in 25 the actual collection of evidence itself. I'll be standing back	October 15, 2003 9 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 1 Q. Okay. Is that generally how -- and I'm not talking about 2 this specific case; but generally, is that -- do you have an 3 agreement with the local agencies to contact you in a case such 4 as this? 5 A. Yes. 6 Q. You also mentioned that you had some training in tactical 7 entry on clandestine laboratories. Would you explain what that 8 is, briefly? 9 A. Basically, it's a -- it's a way of entering or approaching 10 lab -- laboratory sites. Because of the dangers involved with 11 labs, they want to try to create a standard with the DEA on the 12 way entries are made to ensure the safety of the officers, also 13 in an effort to preserve the crime scene. If we go in there, 14 you know, clumsy, just running through the house or whatever, 15 could cause an explosion, which would, you know, injure 16 officers, injure other occupants, as well as destroy a crime 17 scene. 18 Q. Okay. Let's talk about this case specifically. How were 19 you contacted about -- you indicated that you were in the office 20 and you were contacted. How did that happen? 21 A. I was in the office. And I believe it was Agent Clay 22 Stewart with the Chambers County Drug Task Force contacted our 23 office and let us know that they had discovered a lab site and 24 also a police canine had been shot. 25 Q. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 12 1 other individuals? 2 A. A couple other individuals went with me, Task Force Agent 3 Larry Hubbard as well as Task Force Agent Tony Yates. And I 4 believe Donnie Straight was there as well. 5 Q. Okay. And you called them all task force agents. Are they 6 task force officers with the Drug Enforcement Administration? 7 A. Yes, they are. 8 Q. They're like you. They're assigned to a local agency, but 9 they have been cross-designated as a federal officer? 10 A. That's correct. 11 Q. Do you recall what you did at that time? 12 A. By the time I got to Chambers County, there was already 13 numerous police officers on the scene as well as the Department 14 of Forensic Sciences, who was processing the scene, which 15 they're lab certified as well. And they were already processing 16 the scene. So basically, we stood back as observers, assisted 17 in any way we could at that point with the investigation. 18 Q. Okay. At that time, was -- had all the individuals that 19 were identified at that point, had they been taken into custody? 20 A. I believe at some point shortly after I was there, there was 21 already two in custody. 22 Q. Okay. Did you assist in trying to locate the third 23 individual? 24 A. No. We stayed at the scene. Again, Alabama Department of 25 Forensic Sciences was processing the scene. I called DEA	October 15, 2003 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 14 1 relates to the materials that were being used in the laboratory. 2 A. I immediately saw a cylinder, which was common as a common 3 cylinder for anhydrous ammonia. I was advised that there was 4 anhydrous ammonia in that cylinder. I saw a propane tank as 5 well, which is often used in clandestine labs in transferring 6 anhydrous ammonia from an authorized and approved cylinder to 7 this propane tank, which is considered very dangerous itself. I 8 saw batteries on the scene. I seen large amounts of liquid, 9 which was identified to me through forensics as being ether. I 10 could smell ether in the air as well as there was numerous jars, 11 small in size up to large, maybe gallon-size jars, maybe. There 12 was numerous other items there as well. 13 Q. Okay. You had mentioned that one of the tanks posed some 14 sort of danger. At least, the transferring of some quantity of 15 anhydrous ammonia was dangerous at some level. 16 A. Yes. 17 Q. Explain exactly how that is dangerous. What is the danger 18 in doing that? 19 A. Well, when you're -- when you're allowing ammonia to come 20 out of an authorized tank, number one, you have -- you have an 21 immediate danger to yourself as -- if you're the person doing 22 the transferring. Ammonia can cause a lot of damage to your 23 lungs. It could cause your lungs to collapse if you take in a 24 lot at one time. 25 THE COURT: Excuse me. I'm missing what you mean when

Okay. Do you recall -- that was -- I think I should have 5 probably asked you this first. That was March 24th of this 6 year -- 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. -- when you were contacted. 9 A. Yes. 10 Q. The hazardous company -- hazardous disposal company, do you 11 recall who you called? 12 A. Ferguson Harper. 13 Q. Where are they located? Do you know? 14 A. I don't know exactly where their home base is, but they have 15 various cleanup crews from -- there's one in Birmingham; there's 16 one in Jackson, Mississippi; there's one in Mobile. And they'll 17 send whichever truck is available or maybe the closest at the 18 time. 19 Q. Okay. How long does it take for that -- or how long did it 20 take in this case for that company to respond? 21 A. I don't recall the exact amount of hours. It was -- it was 22 several hours. When I contacted them, they were in Livingston. 23 I believe they were in Livingston, Alabama. So they had to come 24 across the state. 25 Q. Okay. Briefly describe what you saw at the scene as it	October 15, 2003 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 15 1 you say transfer. Explain that to me. 2 THE WITNESS: A lot of times they will hook a hose up 3 to the anhydrous ammonia tank and then hook another -- the other 4 end of the hose into the empty cylinder or propane tank to 5 transfer gas from this larger tank, which weighs a lot, transfer 6 it to a smaller tank, which is able to be transported around a 7 little bit easier. 8 THE COURT: But you're not saying you saw this being 9 done. 10 THE WITNESS: No, sir. No. But there's -- I believe 11 what I said earlier, there was a large propane -- or a large 12 cylinder that holds anhydrous ammonia and then the propane tank 13 there. That was there. It's common to have these things -- you 14 know, use that propane tank as a transfer. 15 Q. (Mr. Brown, continuing:) What's the mechanism between the 16 two items that allows the transfer? Is it a hose, or do you 17 hook them up directly to one another, or how do you do that? 18 A. There's crude devices. There's devices that you can get 19 from hardware stores using the exact fittings to make the 20 transfer. And if it's done in that manner, it could be a safe 21 transfer. But the fact that anhydrous ammonia is being 22 transferred into a propane tank and the nozzles on the propane 23 tank or the propane tank itself is not rated to hold back 24 anhydrous ammonia -- and a lot of times what you get is a 25 corrosion of the tank or the valves, which can cause either a

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 1 slow leak or a rapid leak or an explosion where the valve pops 2 off. 3 Q. Okay. When -- just to summarize and to put it into layman's 4 terms, if this anhydrous ammonia leaks out, that is a danger; is 5 that correct? 6 A. Yes. Yes. 7 Q. But -- and I think you said because it's a danger to -- for 8 breathing it? 9 A. It's a danger for the, you know, person who has immediate 10 contact with it. Depending upon how much is released into the 11 air in a concentrated area, it could be a danger to people in 12 the nearby area, immediate effects, possibly even long-term 13 effects. 14 Q. If the fitting -- this is sort of the second part of what 15 you're saying. If the fitting is not on properly or the nozzle 16 is not on properly, you said it could cause an explosion. Do 17 you mean like a fireball explosion, or do you mean just the tank 18 erupting or what do you -- 19 A. Tank -- most likely, the tank erupting. The valve -- again, 20 the tank, the propane tank, and the valves on a propane tank are 21 not rated to hold the anhydrous ammonia. Anhydrous ammonia is 22 very corrosive. It will corrode the valves, the seals, at which 23 time -- it's going to give way at some point. And like I said, 24 it could be either a slow leak or a rapid leak where it all -- 25 the valves fail at one time. It could fail over just time,	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 1 A. Yes. 2 Q. The batteries that you saw, were they opened or unopened? 3 A. The batteries that I seen was still as batteries. They 4 hadn't been tampered with. I did not see every battery there, 5 and I don't know if Department of Forensic Sciences would have 6 anything else to say on that. 7 Q. Okay. You finally mentioned a quantity of liquid that 8 turned out to be ether and that you smelled ether. Would you 9 explain how ether is used in the process and any danger that it 10 might pose? 11 A. Ether is used in the process to produce methamphetamine. 12 It's highly explosive. We are advised at school that one quart 13 of ether is equivalent to three sticks of dynamite. The 14 slightest spark can set it off. That's probably -- in this 15 particular lab and a lot of labs, the most inherent danger is 16 ether, as far as immediate effects. 17 Q. Is there -- by you breathing it, is there some sort of 18 danger to an individual person by breathing it? 19 A. I would imagine, long-term effects, it would cause some 20 problems to your lungs. If you take in a lot at one time, it 21 could cause immediate problems to your lungs. 22 Q. What type of activity would have to be in place for the 23 ether to explode or ignite? I mean what -- what would be the 24 thing that would cause that to happen? 25 A. It could be a spark, like I said, from a battery, from the

Did you involve yourself in the investigation 4 in this case beyond that of the laboratory cleanup? 5 A. Yes. 6 Q. During the course of that investigation, did you have the 7 opportunity to speak with an individual by the name of Nelson? 8 A. Yes. 9 Q. Allen Lee Nelson? 10 A. Yes. 11 Q. Did he provide a statement to law enforcement officers as it 12 related to the conduct there? 13 A. Yes. 14 Q. Did he -- what did he tell you about the involvement of 15 Mr. Cotney during the -- during the laboratory setup and 16 preparation? 17 A. Basically, that he was the coordinator of it, that he was 18 the one in charge of getting everything together with them. He 19 was the one, I believe, that was possibly going to be selling 20 the -- as it was indicated to me, would be selling the majority 21 of this methamphetamine that was produced. He -- 22 Q. With the evidence that I saw from the lab, there was 5 obviously an anhydrous ammonia tank. There was a propane tank. 6 There was ether containers on scene that had been opened and 7 ether removed. There was numerous other items there. Without 8 looking at the exact list of everything there, I couldn't tell 9 you exactly what was there for sure. 10 Q. But the ammonia was in a tank. I have knowledge that there had been at one time. I don't 16 know if any had been retrieved from that tank on this occasion. 17 Q. You had knowledge -- you had knowledge that propane was in 18 the propane tank at one time? 19 A. No. That anhydrous ammonia had been in the tank at one 20 time. 21 Q. If a battery was still in its case and actually still in the 6 package, that doesn't cause a risk to the environment, does it? 7 A. No. 8 Q. One of the other factors in this sentencing guideline to 9 reach this enhancement that Mr. Cotney has been handed in his 10 presentence report is the manner in which these chemicals or 11 anything toxic was disposed of. And I understand in this case a 12 professional group was called in to dispose of it. Is that 13 correct? 14 A. That is correct. 15 Q. Have you -- in your professional career, have you used this 16 company before? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. To dispose of chemicals found in a methamphetamine lab? 19 A. Yes. 20 Q. Do they do a good job? 21 A. As far as I know, yes. I mean what I see at that -- at that 22 location, I see that they're doing their job properly. When it 23 leaves our location, I can't testify that they're doing a good 24 job, because I don't know what they're doing exactly. 25 Q. Right. 5 Q. In your experience with dealing with methamphetamine labs 6 and the stages that methamphetamine is produced, you know, from 7 start -- a starting cook to a finished cook, would you say that 8 this -- in this particular case, the methamphetamine production 9 of the lab was in the initial stages? 10 A. It was -- from what I could see at that point, it was in 11 its -- probably in its beginning to mid stage. You had pill 12 powder, which to me it appeared to already be broke down and 13 they were getting ready to start the process of converting the 14 ephedrine to methamphetamine. 15 Q. Do you have any idea, just based on your knowledge and 16 experience, from looking at what you saw at the lab, of how long 17 or what kind of duration or time period that the lab had been in 18 a -- you know, active or beginning to get active? 19 A. Well, it's really -- it's really hard to say how long it had 20 been active, you know, how long it took them to break down the 21 pill powder. It depends on the motivation of the cook and how 22 fast they can do it. Some can get to that step within an hour. 23 Some, it may take 12, 13, 14 hours, some longer. It depends 24 upon the experience and the motivation of the ones involved with 25 the lab itself. Risa L. At the point of the discovery of that lab. 8 A. No. 9 Q. Who was? 10 A. I don't know if Alabama Department of Forensic Sciences had 11 somebody that was acting as their site safety officer. I do 12 know they're all lab certified. But again, as we were there, 13 even though I wasn't -- someone didn't come to me and assign 14 me -- you're the lab site safety officer, I was there making 15 sure that people were doing things properly. And in fact, with the propane tank -- or with the 2 anhydrous ammonia tank already on the scene, there would have 3 been very little reason to bleed off any of the anhydrous into 4 the propane tank. 5 A. No, not if -- not if they were going to -- not if they were 6 going to cook right there, unless they wanted to move their cook 7 slightly over. I mean that tank is heavy, so to transfer it to 8 a smaller tank that could be moved just a matter of feet, for 9 lack of better words, would be beneficial for them to do that. 10 But to produce the lab, it wouldn't be beneficial. 11 Q. But you don't know that that particular conspiracy 12 necessarily involved the transfer of the anhydrous from the 13 anhydrous tank to the propane tank for that cook. 14 A. No. 15 Q. Okay. And, of course, nobody was transferring anything when 16 you got there. 17 A. No. 18 Q. And the tanks were not even hooked together. 19 A. Right. 20 Q. Okay. You've indicated that it's common to have propane 21 tanks there for transfer. And you've got a -- kind of a long 22 and storied history as a drug task force officer. How many 23 methamphetamine labs have you personally witnessed? 24 A. I would say I've responded or participated in at least ten 25 DEA investigated -- investigated labs.

Was 4 there any inherent danger in the anhydrous ammonia tank, which 5 you say was one that is commonly used for anhydrous ammonia? 6 A. There was no inherent dangers that I observed. If the 7 valves were proper valves that was on it, if there was no damage 8 to the tank, then there would probably not be -- no inherent 9 dangers other than it being released. 10 Q. You don't know of anything that would have caused a danger. 11 You don't know that there was a bad valve or an improper valve 12 or anything like that on the anhydrous ammonia tank. 13 A. Not to my knowledge, no. 14 Q. And you don't know that there was any anhydrous ammonia at 15 that time in the propane tank. 16 A. No, not to my knowledge. Not at the time. 17 Q. So whether or not that posed a potential risk of some sort, 18 you just don't know. 19 A. As far as the anhydrous ammonia? 20 Q. Yeah. 21 A. Not at that immediate moment, no. 22 Q. Okay. But he was basically there assisting with the production      3 of methamphetamine.      4 Q. That could have been done without his assistance by the two      5 individuals involved, could it not?      6 A. Sure.      7 Q. And based on that hierarchy that you have testified to of      8 involvement, would you agree that Mr. Weldon was a minimal      9 participant in this particular conspiracy?      10 A. Yes.      11 Q. He certainly had less involvement than any of the other two.      12 A. He was just as involved as they are. As far as the      13 individual organization, if you want to use the word      14 "organization," role --      15 Q. He was a participant in the conspiracy.      16 A. -- his role was minimal. But as far as being a participant      17 with that production of that lab, whether he's the cook or just      18 somebody who's organizing the whole thing -- if he's the one      19 popping the tops on the ether or whatever, he's, in my opinion,      20 an equal participant.      21 Q. Right. He's a coconspirator responsible for --      22 A. Right.      23 Q. -- all acts done by other conspirators in the situation.      24 But as far as his involvement, it was less as part of the      25 hierarchy of need than the other two.

What do you mean by that?      12 A. It was no longer in pill form. It was in a powder form.      13 Often, you know, they break it down from the pill form, remove      14 the binder from it to extract the ephedrine from the Sudafed      15 pill in order to produce the methamphetamine. And then they'll      16 discard the binder material, which is the starch and the sugars      17 and things like that, and they'll discard it or sometimes save      18 it and set it to the side to use as a cutting agent after the      19 meth is already produced.      20 Q. All right. You were asked on redirect about -- you had      21 participated in approximately ten clandestine laboratories since      22 you've been assigned to the DEA.      23 A. Yes.      24 Q. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 1 large, medium, small? 2 A. It would probably be one of the larger labs that I've gone 3 to. 4 Q. And finally, you had -- you were asked about the proximity 5 of any residences or so forth to the area where the laboratory 6 was found, and you indicated that there were some on the way in, 7 but not any within, I believe, a mile radius or something. 8 A. K-E-L-L-Y. 18 Q. Ms. Kelly, how are you employed? 19 A. I work for the Alabama Department of Forensic Sciences. 20 Q. Were you employed in that capacity back on March 24th of 21 this year? 22 A. Yes, I was. 23 Q. I'm going to ask you some specifics. You were in the 24 courtroom and heard Agent DeJohn testify a moment ago; is that 25 correct? Risa L. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 40 1 A. That is correct. 2 Q. You heard him testify that there were some people from your 3 department that were on the scene that he described earlier. 4 A. That's correct. 5 Q. Were you one of those people? 6 A. Yes, I was. 7 Q. What was your job on the scene that day? 8 A. I was actually the person going through the evidence and 9 deciding what we were going to collect and take back to the lab. 10 Q. What criteria do you use to decide what to collect and what 11 not to collect? 12 A. Anything that could possibly be contaminated. We try to 13 take any unknown liquids back to the lab to determine what is in 14 them. We also in the process separate out acids from bases from 15 solvents for the hazardous waste crew. 16 Q. Do you -- you heard the description of the scene. And I 17 don't want to go through all of that again. I just want to ask 18 you some specific questions about certain things that Agent 19 DeJohn didn't know about. 20 A. Okay. 21 Q. The propane tank, the small propane tank that he mentioned, 22 did it in fact contain anhydrous ammonia? 23 A. It contained a small amount of anhydrous ammonia, yes. 24 Q. Would anhydrous ammonia normally come in that tank? 25 A. No, it would not.	October 15, 2003 United States of America v. And just to reiterate, you were there in your capacity to 4 process the chemicals and the items that were there at the 5 scene. 6 A. That's correct. 7 Q. Was some other individuals with your department also there? 8 A. Yes. 9 Q. How many? Do you recall? 10 A. There were two others. 11 Q. Okay. How long did it take to clean up and collect that 12 evidence? 13 A. Maybe three to four hours. I'm not exactly certain. 14 Q. All right. After you collected the items from there, were 15 you asked by law enforcement agents to determine a quantity of 16 methamphetamine that could be produced by the substances that 17 were there at that lab that you collected? 18 A. Yes, I was. 19 Q. Before we get into your results, if we can, let's take a 20 step back. And could you tell Judge Albritton your training and 21 education as it relates to the job you performed in this 22 capacity with the Department of Forensic Sciences? 23 A. Okay. Were there any batteries that were on the scene that 3 had been opened? 4 A. Not that we found. No. 5 Q. And Agent DeJohn mentioned a large quantity -- large 6 quantity of ether in a container. Did you see that as well? 7 A. Yes, I did. We actually collected the ether. 8 Q. Okay. That if there was 75 percent yield, the individual could make 77.95 grams of methamphetamine. 6 Q. Okay. Now, you didn't calculate that at 100 percent yield? 7 A. Yes, I did. 8 Q. What was that amount? 9 A. That number was 103.93 grams. 10 Q. Why did you include 75 percent yield on your report as opposed to 100 percent yield? 11 A. Because no one person can convert everything 100 percent from pseudoephedrine to methamphetamine even under the most ideal laboratory conditions. 12 Q. Why did you choose 75 percent? 13 A. Because that is generally the amount of methamphetamine we typically will find when we have to quantitate. 14 Q. Would that be on the low end or the high end yield, in your experience? 15 A. It's probably around the middle. 16 Q. Okay. Did you do the same analysis on the second item? 17 A. Would you tell Judge Albritton what the results were of that analysis? 7 A. Item number one was pseudoephedrine hydrochloride. It was approximately -- well, it was 88.12 percent pure. 1 to three different items that were recovered. When you say      2 that, are you talking about three different bags of powder?      3 A. Yes. They were three separate items of powder.      4 Q. And can you tell me, as far as how the powder was      5 distributed in each bag, was there more in one, less in the      6 other, or was it three equal bags?      7 A. There was more in one bag.      8 Q. And that was the one that was, what, 115, approximately?      9 A. No. The total weight was 130 grams.      10 Q. I'll ask you this question, and you may not know it.      11 A. Okay.      12 Q. As pill powder is cooked down in a methamphetamine lab, if      13 it is all cooked at the same time in the same pot or skillet or      14 whatever and it's divided up into three different units, should      15 the quantity of pseudoephedrine be the same in each unit? Do      16 you understand what I'm saying?      17 A. No. I'm sorry. I don't.      18 Q. As opposed to three different cooks. You might get more      19 pseudoephedrine in one cook, less in another one, and then even      20 less in another one. If it's all cooked together and divided --      21 I'm just trying to figure out whether -- what the discrepancy is      22 in the amount of pseudoephedrine or the percentage of it in each      23 bag.      24 A. 1 methamphetamine that we had to quantitate. Theoretically, we 2 had no methamphetamine, so we're working with the starting 3 material.		1 we've had to do in the past on clandestinely manufactured 2 methamphetamine.
4 Q. Okay. So basically, this was potential methamphetamine. 5 A. Yes, sir.		3 MR. HALSTROM: Very good. Thank you.
6 Q. All right. We might call it executory methamphetamine, a 7 platonic, ideal methamphetamine. It was not actual meth. 8 A. No. It was not actual meth.		4 THE COURT: Mr. Brown, any redirect?
9 Q. Okay. And all you can do is use your education and training 10 to -- and the application of theories to come up with the 11 quantities that you did. 12 A. Yes, sir.		5 MR. 19 Q. To what degree of certainty do you apply the 70 percent 20 figure to determine theoretically in this case? How certain are 21 you that theoretically it's going to amount to this much actual 22 methamphetamine? 23 A. I'm fairly certain. It's a very simple reaction. There are 24 not that many mistakes that can be made with this method that 25 was being used. However, I always calculate a hundred percent		14 MR. 1 yield, 75 percent yield, and 50 percent yield just -- just in 2 case. 3 Q. Is the -- I said one question. Allow me a follow-up 4 question. Is that theoretical statement, in the realm of the 5 laboratory existence, for circumstances within the laboratory 6 that you would -- you would have 75 percent reduction from the 7 raw material into the methamphetamine? 8 A. In a clan lab or in an actual lab setting? 9 Q. In the setting that you determine what the quantities 10 theoretically would be. 11 A. 75 percent is just a generally accepted number that we use 12 within our department. It is, from experiences in the past, the 13 number that we have seen that's in the middle. 14 Q. As you -- is that as you apply that to the forensics reports 15 from the material you received from clandestine labs? 16 A. I'm not sure I understand. 17 Q. Well, there are some situations where you will manufacture 18 methamphetamine in a lab circumstance, and then there are other 19 situations where you're asked to determine the quantities that 20 are available from a clandestine lab or illegal lab. And the 21 question I'm asking is whether those figures that you're using 22 come from experience in using -- from facts received from 23 clandestine laboratories, or are they figures that you're using 24 from this laboratory analysis. 25 A. They're actually figures that are based on quantitations		1 A. Okay. 2 Q. And that's methamphetamine as opposed to actual 3 methamphetamine, correct? 4 A. Correct. 5 Q. Okay. If you had figured it at a 50 percent yield, what 6 would that come out to? 7 A. Total? 8 Q. Yeah. 9 A. Approximately a little over a hundred grams. 10 Q. A little over a hundred grams. Okay. Now, why do you 11 figure the 50 percent yield? 12 A. I always do a low number, 100 percent, and then 75 percent. 13 Q. Okay. And you do the low number, the 50 percent, because 14 that's what you see sometimes, although 75 percent is what you 15 generally accept as normal, correct? 16 A. I've never seen any as low as 50 percent, but there is still 17 the possibility that in a clan lab situation, everything can go 18 completely wrong. 19 Q. Especially when you're outside in the woods. 20 A. Yes. 21 Q. Okay. But you used the 75 percent -- and I think I'm -- I 22 think I'm quoting you here -- because that's what we generally 23 find, correct? 24 A. That's the average of what we generally find, yes. 25 Q. Some are higher; some are lower.

So you cannot say to a scientific certainty that the yield 3 from this particular operation would have been higher than 50 4 percent. 5 A. I cannot say it would be -- it could have been in the 90 6 percentage; it could have been in the thirties. 7 MR. LEWIS: Okay. That's it. And I'm accepting the testimony 17 of Ms. Kelly as applicable in all three. And I understand the 18 defendants have no objection to her being excused. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 1 DIRECT EXAMINATION 2 BY MR. BROWN: 3 Q. Good morning. Would you state your name, please? 4 A. Clay Stewart. 5 Q. How are you employed? 6 A. Employed by the Chambers County Sheriff's Department with a 7 current assignment of the drug task force. 8 Q. What are your responsibilities with the drug task force? 9 A. To investigate drug-related crimes in Chambers County. 10 Q. Were you so employed on March 24th, on that date? 11 A. Yes, I was. 12 Q. Without rehashing testimony that's already been talked 13 about, did you -- you heard Agent DeJohn describe generally the 14 scene and Ms. Kelly generally describe the items that were found 15 at the scene as well. You were in court for that testimony, 16 right? 17 A. That's correct. 18 Q. Would you describe the -- any buildings or structures that 19 were on the scene, like right where the clandestine laboratory 20 was located? 21 A. I recall in the area of where the lab was there was a farm 22 house-type cabin. There was also a small pump house. And then 23 farther off, there was a barn-type structure, another structure 24 in the area. 25 Q. What is a pump house? Risa L. Entrekin, RDR, CRR U.S. District Court One Church Street, Montgomery, AL 36104 334-240-2405	October 15, 2003 57 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 1 (Brief pause) 2 Q. I'm going to identify these composite photographs. There's 3 nine photographs which are on Government's Exhibit #7. I'm 4 going to just start at the top left-hand corner and ask you to 5 identify what's in that photograph. 6 A. That's a photograph of a compressed gas cylinder that's been 7 concealed under wood and debris and old tin. 8 Q. Did you come to recognize what was located inside that 9 cylinder? 10 A. Yes, sir. It would be anhydrous ammonia. 11 Q. The top middle shows another container. What is that? 12 A. That's a photograph of a propane tank that's had an altered 13 or another valve placed on top of it. 14 Q. When you say another valve, is that the valve that generally 15 would come with that tank? 16 A. No, sir, not any I've seen. That appears to be a water-type 17 valve. 18 Q. Top right, what is that? 19 A. That's what I would call a pair of vise-grip pliers. 20 Q. Was it located in close proximity to the tanks? 21 A. Yes, sir. It would have been in the same area. 22 Q. The middle left photograph, what is that? 23 A. This photograph, in the background of the photograph, you 24 can see the container that held the ether. There's also glass 25 jars in the foreground of the photograph, and there's debris and Risa L. What are the coffee filters? What are they there for? 3 A. The coffee filters are used in a clandestine lab to strain 4 various liquids to remove the powder or binders. 5 Q. The very middle photograph, what does that contain? 6 A. It's a photograph of a backpack that appears to have a pair 7 of blue channel-lock-type -- what I call channel-lock-type 8 pliers. It appears to be a valve or a -- behind it, it looks 9 like a water spigot valve, the top of it, with a twist on and 10 off. 11 Q. Okay. I'm going to point out an item and ask if that's the 12 item you're talking about. 13 A. Yes, sir. That's it. 14 Q. And the item there, are those the pliers that you were 15 discussing? 16 A. Yes, sir. That would be what I would call blue 17 channel-lock-type pliers, blue handled. 18 Q. Middle right, what is that item? 19 A. That appears to be a backpack with a photograph of what I 20 would call an HCL gas generator. 21 Q. Bottom left? 22 A. It is another photograph of the lab scene showing the 23 various containers, the compressed gas cylinder, a shirt, the 24 ether -- container the ether was in, and various debris around 25 the lab site.	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 62 1 A. -- that some of the items were found around and in. 2 Q. Okay. And then the bottom right-hand side, I believe, is a 3 close-up of something that you described a moment ago. 4 A. Yes, sir. It appears to be a pair of channel-lock pliers 5 with a fitting in the mouth of them. 6 Q. Is that exactly how you found it on that day? 7 A. That's what I recall seeing. I have no knowledge if anyone 8 else had moved them. When I photographed the area, it was a 9 little time after the actual incident happened that we started 10 photographing. But that was how I observed them. 11 MR. BROWN: Your Honor, if I can have a minute just to 12 look through my list of objections to make sure I've covered the 13 ones that applied to different defendants. 14 (Brief pause) 15 Q. Now, aside from taking these photographs, Detective Stewart, 16 did you do anything else in relation to this case? 17 A. Yes, I did. 18 Q. Explain to Judge Albritton how you came to be involved in 19 this case. 20 A. We were notified by our 911 center, by our dispatch center, 21 that there was a possible clandestine methamphetamine lab in the 22 north part of our county, which was on County Road 242. A 23 gentleman had been turkey hunting and smelled a strong chemical 24 smell and had gotten word to the 911 center that there was a 25 possible meth lab. He also observed a truck at some hunting

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 61 1 Q. Okay. There's a container that I'm pointing at right 2 there. It's between the tree and the shirt. Is that the 3 container that you're discussing that has ether in it? 4 A. Yes. That would have been the container. 5 Q. And then the middle bottom photograph, that photograph, what 6 does it represent? 7 A. That would have been a Tupperware-type container with an 8 unknown liquid believed to be ether inside of it with aquarium 9 pump tubing on top of it. 10 Q. Government's Exhibit #7 on the top left, what is that item? 11 A. That's a photograph of the propane tank. Also in the 12 photograph is a can of what appeared to be acetone or denatured 13 alcohol. At the bottom of the photograph, there appears to be 14 some hose that has been connected to what looks like a pool 15 filter, some type of water filter, possibly an effort to make a 16 crude filter. 17 Q. Some of these items look similar to one another, so I'm just 18 going to direct you to the right-hand -- the top most on the 19 right-hand side. There seems to be some sort of container in 20 there. Do you know what that is? 21 A. No. Actually, I don't. I don't recognize what that is. It 22 appears to be possibly a propane cylinder or another type 23 cylinder. But it's a debris pile that was at the clan lab 24 site -- 25 Q. You said Mike Parrish. 10 A. Yes, sir. Mike Parrish, Howard Carlton, and Jason Fuller 11 are all employed, like I am, with the Chambers County Sheriff's 12 Department. Tommy Sims is a detective with the Lanett Police 13 Department and at that time was currently assigned to the drug 14 task force. 15 Q. Okay. Were there any other individuals who responded to the 16 scene that day? 17 A. Investigator Shane House was also there when we arrived on 18 the County Road 242. 19 Q. What did you do once you got there? 20 A. We met with the complainant, a gentleman named Larry Bonner, 21 and he described what he had seen and smelled. We had decided 22 to -- we formulated a plan to walk into the area to see if we 23 could see anything or possibly apprehend subjects if they were 24 involved in a clan lab. Investigator Shane House was assigned 25 to watch a -- a gas line road, a logging road, just a little

Describe, if you will, how you entered that property in terms of the direction and how individuals that you've already named were assigned to go into the property. 9 A. We walked from the gate -- instead of driving vehicles, we walked in. I'm not sure the distance. It was a good distance in. The complainant, Larry Bonner, accompanied us approximately halfway up the road. At that point, I smelled ether, the smell of ether, while we were still a good distance away. 14 I asked Larry Bonner to return back to the vehicles instead of having him accompany us because I felt like there -- with a strong smell of ether and I couldn't see the house, I felt there was a very good chance there was going to be a clandestine meth lab there. 19 We proceeded on down the road leading to the cabin or to the hunting camp. When we got to the end of the road, the road opened up into a field that contained the building, the hunting camp itself, the pump house, and the barn. One of the first things we saw was a black pickup truck backed into the edge of the wood line, which is a fairly thin area of planted pines. 25 Q. Where did you go from there?	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 66 1 Q. And he's a sergeant with Chambers County? 2 A. That's correct. 3 Q. How was he dressed? 4 A. He was dressed in a -- what I would call, I guess, his K-9 uniform. I believe they're probably brown BDUs, a brown sheriff's department shirt marked, you know, K-9, sheriff's department -- I'm not sure exactly what the shirt said -- with his ballistic vest under that, an under-clothing vest. 9 Q. I believe the last person is Major Carlton? 10 A. That's correct. 11 Q. How was he dressed? 12 A. I'm not sure exactly what he had on. I believe it was a red Chambers County Sheriff's Department shirt, but he was also -- and I believe it was khakis. But he was also wearing a ballistic vest, except his was gold with sheriff's lettering across the front and the back. 17 MR. BROWN: May I approach the witness, Your Honor? 18 THE COURT: You may. 19 Q. Detective Stewart, I'm going to show you what's been marked as Government's Exhibit #5 for identification purposes. What is this? 22 A. That is my ballistic vest that I wear to keep myself from gunfire and also from flash fires in a meth lab. 24 Q. Okay. Is this the vest that you wore on March 24th? 25 A. That is it.

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 65 1 A. At that point, myself, Detective Tommy Sims, and Jason Fuller went to the left of the property along the left-hand side in a line, which is also planted pines in the area, and walked around to approach the truck and the clan lab on the left-hand side of the road -- of the area. Deputy or Sergeant Mike Parrish, his canine Narco, and Major Howard Carlton went to the right around the house and approached the vehicle and the clan lab on the truck side. 9 Q. All right. The lettering on that vest, is it reflective in any way? 21 A. Yes. It's light reflective. 22 Q. And Sergeant Parrish, his canine partner, and Major Carlton 3 were on the right side? 4 A. Yes. That's correct. 5 Q. What happened at that time? 6 A. As we were approaching the clandestine meth lab on our side, 7 I observed one subject appear to look in our direction. At that 8 point, Detective Tommy Sims ordered him to place his hands up -- 9 Identified himself as police, and ordered him to put his hands 10 up. Detective Sims repeated the command several times to this 11 individual. I could see two individuals in the actual lab 12 area. After Detective Sims made the verbal command several 13 times, the subjects turned and ran from the clandestine lab. 14 Q. Do you recall what he said exactly when he identified 15 himself? 16 A. The first thing he said each time was police, put your hands 17 up. I recall him saying that specifically. 18 Q. All right. 19 A. He repeated the command several times. 20 Q. Did you -- did anyone in your small group of three 21 persons -- did y'all have your weapons drawn or anything like 22 that at that point? 23 A. At the point where Detective Sims began issuing verbal 24 commands, I drew my weapon. Deputy Fuller was carrying a 25 12-gauge pump shotgun with him.	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 1 of my peripheral vision. 2 After a brief time, I got a response from Mike or heard Mike 3 and Tommy Sims in the woods. Mike was giving a description or 4 talking about someone who just shot his dog. I proceeded into 5 the woods to assist and came across our Chambers County 6 Sheriff's Department's K-9 on the ground. It appeared to be 7 shot. I continued on down to the sound where I could hear Tommy 8 Sims issuing commands for somebody to get their hand out from 9 under them, to show -- he kept -- I could hear him say, show me 10 your hands, show me your hands, as I proceeded through the 11 woods. 12 Q. Did you eventually get to that area? 13 A. As I approached that area, I came upon a 12-gauge pump 14 shotgun that was on the ground. I recovered this weapon because 15 I knew there were other people -- at least one other person in 16 the woods. I did not want to leave it in the woods. After the two individuals that you saw that ran, what 6 happened after that? 7 A. As Detective Sims was issuing verbal commands, Sergeant 8 Parrish was also issuing verbal commands from the other side by 9 the truck where he and Major Carlton were. I heard Sergeant 10 Parrish identify himself several times as a deputy sheriff, that 11 he had a sheriff K-9, and he was going to release his dog. Later through that investigation, we did ask about the 3 shotgun. 4 Q. Who did you ask? 5 A. Both Allen Nelson and Jonathan Weldon. 6 Q. Did either of them -- and if you could identify who -- did 7 they give you any statements about the shotgun itself? 8 A. Yes. They both did. 9 Q. What did Mr. Nelson tell you about the shotgun? 10 A. That the shotgun belonged to David Cotney and he had 11 purchased it from another individual and had it with him at the 12 lab site the night prior to where we made the arrest there and 13 also at the lab site that day. 14 Q. Did he describe to you the night before at the lab site what 15 the gun had been used for? 16 A. He just said that Cotney had it with him during the prep 17 work when they were cooking down the pills. I believe that's 18 when he said it was top of the -- laying on top of the 19 refrigerator within, you know, arm's reach. 20 Q. All right. What did Mr. Weldon say as it relates to that 21 gun? 22 A. That the 12-gauge shotgun belonged to David Cotney that was 23 at the lab site. 24 Q. Did he describe anything that had happened the night before 25 as it related to the gun?

As you know, I represent David 22 Cotney. There's several things I want to ask you about, and 23 they are of a factual nature. They're dealing with the 24 enhancements in these sentencing guidelines over the facts as my 25 client remembers them and the facts as you and the other	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 72 1 exhibit. 2 Q. Clay, I'm going to try to put this on this machine. As you 3 know, in Chambers County, we have not advanced this far yet. 4 Does this photograph accurately represent about the area where 5 you first were able to see the truck as you rounded this corner 6 to the left? 7 A. I'm having a little trouble seeing the photograph. I'm 8 trying to -- if you can give me a second and let my eyes 9 adjust. I'm not sure if this is right at the opening or back a 10 little bit, but this would have been a view we would have seen 11 coming off that road where it opened up. 12 Q. And as you walked into this opening, you testified you were 13 on the left side of the house there? 14 A. I was on the left side -- on -- in this photograph you're 15 showing, we went to the left of the photograph -- of the -- of 16 the wood line. 17 Q. And Deputy Parrish and Sims would have been to the -- did 18 they go around the back of the house or just right up next to 19 the house? 20 A. It's my understanding that Major Carlton and Sergeant 21 Parrish and Narco went on the -- looking at this photograph, 22 again, to the right side of the residence or the house. 23 Q. Okay. But not all the way around coming around the back of 24 the house. 25 A. I know that all I can -- all I can say is they went to the

To begin with, I want to ask you about some distances as 4 best you recall from the point -- to begin with, from the point 5 you saw the truck. How far do you think you were? 6 A. A guess, from the -- where I first observed the truck, would 7 probably be -- it was a good distance, probably maybe 75, a 8 hundred yards, maybe. Maybe 125 yards. It was across the 9 opening. 10 Q. Is that as you -- and I've been out to the scene several 11 times. Is that -- as you came down the dirt road, veered left 12 where the field opened up, is that about the vicinity you first 13 saw the truck? 14 A. Yes. That would have been about the area I seen it, when it 15 opened up. 16 Q. Can you describe how the truck was parked in relation to the 17 woods? 18 A. It was parked at an angle. It wasn't backed in at a 19 90-degree angle. If you have the wood line, it was an offset 20 angle, almost -- seemed to be almost facing where the road came 21 in. 22 MR. DEAN: Your Honor, may I approach? 23 THE COURT: You may. 24 MR. DEAN: I have shown these photographs to the United 25 States attorneys. I'd like to mark this one as the next Cotney	United States of America v. They came out on the other side. 3 Q. As you first saw the truck, you said that you were 4 approximately 75 to a hundred yards from the truck. By the time 5 you got to where you said you could see some individuals around 6 the lab site, approximately how many yards were you from those 7 individuals? 8 A. Less, probably, than 25 yards. Probably 30, 35 feet, 9 guessing. 10 Q. And when you first saw them, you were -- you had not entered 11 the woods, correct? 12 A. No. I had not entered the woods when I saw them. 13 Q. And they -- they were in the woods. 14 A. They were behind a -- kind of a little thin of pines, that's 15 what I -- a thin plant of pines in a row. 16 MR. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 76 1 assuming it hasn't been moved, because I really can't tell the 2 angle it was parked to the wood line in this photograph. 3 Q. Can you tell looking at this photograph -- if you look 4 across the hood of the truck back into the woods, it appears to 5 be -- about the only structure you can see back through the 6 woods is, from what I can gather, having been out there, that 7 old refrigerator. Was that lab site next to that old 8 refrigerator that was out there? 9 A. There was a refrigerator in the area of the lab site, in the 10 general area. I'm not sure exactly where the lab was located in 11 relation to that refrigerator. It was over a fairly large area. 12 Q. When you approached this lab site and got, you said, 25 or 13 30 yards from it, what -- tell me again what you saw there. 14 A. When we got less than 25 yards, probably 30, 35 feet from 15 it, I detected movement. I could see movement. I could also 16 see items that stood out in color. I remember blue was a color 17 that stood out. It was not something natural. And then I 18 detected movement, people moving. 19 Q. Could you tell what they were doing? 20 A. No. I could just tell they were moving around. I couldn't 21 tell what they were doing. 22 Q. Could you see their hands? 23 A. I could see the movement, but I couldn't tell if they had 24 anything in their hands or not or what they were doing. But none of the individuals came towards you and looked at 2 you and looked around and then took off? 3 A. One subject did that I -- I -- faced me, me and Sergeant 4 Sims and Deputy Fuller. There was one subject that looked up at 5 us at -- right before they fled. 6 Q. Do you know which one that was? 7 A. I couldn't identify him on that day. I later learned which 8 subject was standing there. 9 Q. Which one was it? 10 A. It was Jonathan Weldon. 11 Q. Can you describe to me what -- what type of visibility there 12 is between where you were standing -- where you -- I'm sure you 13 later walked around the truck somewhere. 14 A. That's correct. 15 Q. Through the woods to the lab. I can see from the photos 16 there are trees and there's bushes and things; but in your 17 opinion, what -- what type of visibility can you see through 18 there? 19 A. It would probably just vary from where you're standing. 20 It's fairly thin throughout those planted pines. They're not -- 21 it's not overly grown up or wasn't at that point in time. You 22 could easily walk to the lab through the planted pines. And 23 there were, you know, trees ranging in various sizes in there. 24 I could -- you know, I could tell when I was looking that there 25 was a subject standing there. He looked at me. Later I was

And tell me again who the first one was that you testified 3 that hollered police. 4 A. The first person I recall identifying themselves as police 5 was Tommy Sims. 6 Q. And Tommy was with you. 7 A. That's correct. He was right beside me. 8 Q. And Detectives Carlton and Parrish were near the truck. 9 A. Major Carlton and Sergeant Parrish were over in the area of 10 the truck. 11 Q. And how soon after Detective Sims hollered did they take 12 off? 13 A. Detective Sims identified himself as a police officer. 14 Sergeant Parrish also began to issue commands and identify 15 himself. And at that point, they took off. As the people -- 16 the subject I saw -- the two subjects I saw were leaving the 17 lab, they were continuing issuing verbal commands and 18 identifying themselves. 19 Q. Was it a matter of seconds? 20 A. It was quick. It was a continuous -- Detective Sims 21 continually was identifying himself as a police officer 22 throughout the whole, you know, time span there. 23 Q. Even after they took off? 24 A. Continued to -- stop, police. He continued to identify 25 himself as a police officer.	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 79 1 able to recognize him as Jonathan Weldon. And I could see items 2 at the lab site from where we were standing enough to recognize 3 it potentially being a clandestine lab. 4 Q. After you saw the individuals and you say the deputies 5 hollered police, they took off running. And I guess the next 6 chain of events you testified to were you heard a gunshot. 7 A. I went to the lab to secure the clan lab. 8 Q. Okay. 9 A. At that point, I heard a single gunshot and then several 10 more shots. 11 Q. Then you proceeded on into the woods? 12 A. I started verbally calling out for Mike Parrish and Tommy 13 Sims to make sure that neither one of those had been -- and also 14 Major Carlton. I -- and he turned out to be fairly close to 15 me. But I continued to call on these two subjects, on Sergeant 16 Sims and Sergeant Parrish, to make sure they were okay, to make 17 sure they would answer me before we proceeded into the woods. 18 Q. Were you the officer -- well, let me ask you. Who was the 19 first officer to see the dog? Was it you? 20 A. I'm not sure exactly who was first to see the dog. I saw 21 the dog, but I don't know if Sergeant Parrish had seen it or 22 Sergeant Sims had seen it, because I went by it very quickly. 23 Q. Okay. Did you see the gun where it was laying? 24 A. I saw the gun. 25 Q. How close from the dog was the gun?

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 80 1 A. I'm not sure. I'm really not sure. 2 Q. Was it a -- it wasn't 20 yards from the dog, was it? 3 A. No, it wasn't 20 yards. It was fairly close. 4 Q. Several feet, would you say? 5 A. It was several feet. I'm not really sure how many. 6 Q. And how far was my client, David Cotney, in your best estimate, from the dog and from the gun when you found him laying down? 7 A. I didn't see your client laying down. 8 Q. Who was -- you were not the first person there to see that? 9 A. No. No, I was not. 10 Q. When did you see my client? 11 A. I saw your client after I recovered the shotgun. 12 Q. Okay. 13 A. I continued over a log. And about five feet from the log, Tommy Sims had your client upright and was trying to walk him out of the woods. 14 Q. And your best guess, when you saw him with Tommy Sims, how far was he from where you had just seen the dog and the gun? 15 A. I'm not sure from the dog. From the gun, it was less than probably -- it was approximately five feet, maybe seven feet. 16 It was fairly close. 17 Q. When you approached Detective Sims and my client, he -- had he already put handcuffs on him? 18 A. Yes. He was already in handcuffs.	October 15, 2003 United States of America v. I'd just like for you to tell me, based on the information you learned at that time, what you believe my client's role was. 9 A. I believe that your client organized the -- the cooking of the methamphetamine. He was able to have people help him cook or knew how to manufacture methamphetamine in a clandestine lab, being Alien Nelson and Jonathan Weldon. Also, there were people out there shopping specifically for your client for cooks. In return, they would get either cash or drugs from your client. 10 Q. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 81 1 Q. So it was you and Detective Sims? 2 A. Sergeant Parrish was there. When I got on the scene, Sergeant Parrish left, I'm assuming to go get his dog, get Narco. 3 Q. There has been testimony and factual testimony about -- as far as these enhancements that we're here about today, that David Cotney resisted arrest. I want you to tell me, in your opinion, if he resisted arrest; and if he did, how. 4 A. When I arrived to where your client was, I observed Sergeant Sims trying to escort him out of the woods. Bear in mind that he had gone deeper into the woods. He was trying to escort your client out of the woods. It appeared to me your client continued to pull his arm away from Tommy Sims' grip. He had his hands handcuffed behind him, and Tommy Sims had him by the arm. He continued to pull, appeared to be pulling. At that point, I came down with Tommy Sims; I got on one side, he got on the other, and we got out of the woods in a hurry, rapidly. 5 Q. Were you aware at that time when you noticed him pulling that he had been severely bitten by the dog? 6 A. I was not aware he was injured in any way until Major Carlton notified me and called the ambulance some -- however minutes later. 7 Q. My client never told you that he was bitten? 8 A. To include the named defendants and other individuals out purchasing precursor items. 5 Q. When you recovered the shotgun, did you check and see how many shotgun shells were in the shotgun? 6 A. No. At that time, I did not. 7 Q. Did you at a later time? 8 A. I later turned the -- shortly thereafter, I turned the shotgun over to Major Carlton for safekeeping, at which point he went through the unloading procedure. 9 Q. Do you remember how many spent shotgun shells were recovered? 10 A. I believe there was just one spent shotgun shell. 11 Q. Do you remember whether or not that spent shotgun shell was still in the chamber when you recovered the shotgun? 12 A. The -- when I turned the shotgun over to Major Carlton, in my presence, he checked the shotgun. I don't have any further 2 questions for this witness. 3        THE COURT: All right. You may come down. 4        MR. DEAN: Your Honor, I would like to offer these 5 photographs. 6        THE COURT: All right. Those are exhibits what? 7        MR. DEAN: Defendant David Cotney's #5, #6, #7, and #8. 8        THE COURT: All right. They're admitted. 9        MR. BROWN: Your Honor, if I've written these 10 objections down correctly, the remaining objection for Defendant 11 Weldon has something to do with calculating criminal history 12 category, his objection number six; and I believe all of 13 Mr. Nelson's objections have been addressed. So the remaining 14 witnesses, the last two witnesses, would apply only to 15 Mr. Cotney on his objection number six and some of the 16 objections that we've already covered, but I don't believe apply 17 to Defendants Weldon or Nelson at this point. 18        THE COURT: All right. The evidence offered by the 19 government, then, from this point forward would apply only to 20 the Defendant Cotney. 21        MR. 1 DIRECT EXAMINATION 2 BY MR. BROWN: 3 Q. Good afternoon. Would you state your name, please? 4 A. My name is Thomas Lee Sims. 5 Q. How are you employed, Mr. Sims? 6 A. I'm employed with the Lanett Police Department. At this time, I was currently assigned to the Chambers County Drug Task Force; but since, I've transferred back to patrol. 7 Q. Okay. So when you say at this time, you're talking about 8 March 24th, 2003, you worked with the drug task force, Chambers 9 County? 10 A. Yes, sir. 11 Q. No longer with them. 12 A. Correct. 13 Q. And on that -- on that day -- first of all, you've been in 14 the courtroom during the testimony so far in this sentencing 15 hearing; is that correct? 16 A. Yes, sir. 17 Q. You've heard the testimony of both Agents DeJohn and Clay 18 Stewart? 19 A. Yes, sir. 20 Q. I don't want to rehash anything that they've gone over and 21 be cumulative. You've heard Chambers County -- or Clay Stewart 22 talk about you, him, and detective -- or Sheriff Fuller, Deputy 23 Sheriff Fuller, over in one area.	1 A. Yes, sir. 2 Q. I'm going to show you what's been admitted as Government's 3 Exhibit #2. Is that vest similar or is your vest that you were 4 wearing that day exactly like that vest? 5 A. It's similar. It's not exact. 6 Q. Okay. How is it different? 7 A. Mine has pockets on the front, the "police" is more to the 8 left side here, and it's not quite as heavy. 9 Q. After identifying yourself, you said you saw two subjects 10 run. What did you do at that point? 11 A. I gave chase on the subject that went straight into the 12 woods. 13 Q. When you were looking at the two subjects, was it the 14 subject on the left or right? 15 A. It was the subject on the left. 16 Q. Did you know who that subject was at the time? 17 A. No, sir, I did not. 18 Q. Did you later learn who the subject was? 19 A. An idea, yes. 20 Q. Okay. While you were running after that subject, what 21 happened? 22 A. I got into the woods. We ran through the lab area. I ran 23 through the lab area and continued in the woods. I heard one 24 shot followed by numerous shots. We -- I continued on into the 25 woods, and I was keeping the subject I was chasing in sight.

1 A. Yes, sir. 2 Q. And that's accurate? As Investigator Stewart got -- his 3 testimony to that point, that was accurate? 4 A. Yes, sir. 5 Q. What happened -- Mr. Stewart indicated -- or Investigator 6 Stewart indicated that you at one point began identifying 7 yourself as a police officer? 8 A. Yes, sir. 9 Q. Would you take us from that point until the rest of the 10 incident of that day? 11 A. Yes, sir. When we got to that point, I observed the subject 12 either sit back -- he was -- he sat back in the chair and looked 13 over. And at that time, I began announcing police, when it 14 appeared that he looked at us. I said, police, show me your 15 hands, two to three times. At that point in time, they got up; 16 and I saw two people start running. I saw just a glimpse of one 17 and the other subject's back go into the wooded area, and I gave 18 chase. 19 Q. What were you wearing at that time when you were identifying 20 yourself as a police officer? 21 A. It was either a pair of blue or black jeans and -- I don't 22 recall the shirt, but I had a black bullet-proof vest on. It 23 has "police" across the front. 24 Q. Were you -- you were in court when a vest was described and 25 shown earlier today by Investigator Stewart?	1 And a subject come out from the right-hand side through some 2 small -- I call them pine saplings. And he was throwing his 3 arms. He come out running. And he looked at me and turned; and 4 when he turned, he took maybe two steps and he went over a log. 5 Q. You say he went over a log. Did he trip? 6 A. He fell over a log. Yes, sir. 7 Q. What happened then? 8 A. At that time, I began again giving verbal commands, show me 9 your hands. He had this hand outstretched (indicating). 10 Q. Now, you're showing -- 11 A. I'm sorry. His left hand outstretched. His right hand was 12 under him. Clay Stewart was calling at me. I heard Deputy 13 Parrish call a description of the clothes, and I advised that I 14 had one subject on the ground down here. 15 Q. Did you know the person that you had on the ground? 16 A. I did not recognize him at that time. No, sir. 17 Q. Did you later recognize him? 18 A. After I looked at his ID and I looked at him, yes, sir, I 19 did. 20 Q. Who was it? 21 A. It was David Cotney, Jr. 22 Q. Did Mr. Cotney address you in any way? 23 A. Yes, sir, he did. 24 Q. How did he address you? 25 A. When he was laying on the ground like this, he looked back

After you heard the description of the clothing from      3 Sergeant Parrish and you heard Investigator Stewart, then you      4 advised them that you had Mr. Cotney in custody?      5 A. No, sir. I said I had one subject here.      6 Q. Okay. And what happened after that?      7 A. Parrish began hollering, where; and I told him, down here,      8 down here. And I was yelling, show me your hands, show me your      9 hands. At that point in time when Deputy Parrish got closer, I      10 holstered my weapon. And I went down and grabbed his left hand      11 and placed it behind him. At that time, Mike began yelling at      12 me, he's got a gun, he's got a gun.      13 Q. And Mike is Sergeant Parrish?      14 A. Yes, sir. I'm sorry. Sergeant Parrish began yelling at me,      15 he's got a gun, he's got a gun. And at that time, I reached      16 down with both hands and grabbed his right hand that he still      17 had under him and started telling him to give me his hand.      18 Q. Did he do that?      19 A. No, sir. Deputy Parrish then got down over him, and he was      20 pushing on him. We were both yelling at him, give me your      21 hand. And Deputy Parrish hit him, and I got the hand out. I      22 looked up at Mike, and I said, Mike, I need your cuffs -- I'm      23 sorry -- Deputy Parrish, I said, I need your cuffs. And Deputy      24 Parrish didn't respond. And I reached up, and I took the palm      25 of my hand -- I had his hands here on the small of his back. I	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 94 1 searched -- actually, I rolled him onto his left side. I'm      2 sorry. I looked under him; didn't have a gun. Rolled him onto      3 his butt, helped him stand up, and we started out of the woods.      4 Q. Was Mr. Cotney cooperative with you as you were walking      5 through the woods?      6 A. We started walking up to the woods, and he was -- he was      7 saying something. He was mouthy. He jerked away. I asked him,      8 I said, why -- you know, what's wrong with you? At this point      9 in time, I didn't recognize him. I said, what is wrong with      10 you? I said, don't you realize you just messed your life up,      11 and started pulling him up out of the woods, because we still      12 had people in the woods we were trying to get out. And that's      13 when we ran into Investigator Stewart.      14 Q. Did Investigator Stewart -- you heard his testimony that he      15 assisted you in taking Mr. Cotney away.      16 A. Yes, sir.      17 MR. BROWN: Thank you. That's all the questions I have      18 for you now. A defense lawyer may have some questions for you.      19 THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.      20 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Dean?      21 CROSS-EXAMINATION      22 BY MR. DEAN:      23 Q. Detective Sims, when you first saw the individuals at the      24 lab, can you tell me how far away you were from them, your best      25 estimate?

And he stood up and handed      5 me his cuffs. And he said he -- he shot my dog. He killed      6 Narco. He killed my dog.      7 Q. Back up just a second. You indicated that Deputy Parrish      8 got down on his knees or on the ground --      9 A. Yes, sir.      10 Q. -- and was there beside you. Was he --      11 A. The -- his right -- Mr. Cotney's right hand was      15 the hand that you indicated, I believe, that Mr. Cotney wouldn't      16 relinquish to your control, I guess is the best way to put it.      17 A. Correct.      18 Q. When did he do that? I mean when did he ever let go with      19 that right hand?      20 A. After Mike struck him.      21 Q. Okay. Was there anything in his hand?      22 A. No, sir, there was not.      23 Q. After speaking with deputy -- Sergeant Parrish after he told      24 you that his dog had been shot, what happened after that?      25 A. I cuffed David Cotney. How close were you to Officer Stewart as y'all were walking      6 in?      7 A. He was -- he was beside me.      8 Q. Right beside you?      9 A. Yes, sir, and kind of to -- just right here (indicating).      10 Yes, sir.      11 Q. But not -- not ten yards behind you.      12 A. Oh, no, sir.      13 Q. Were you on his right or left walking towards --      14 A. I believe I would have been on his left.      15 Q. As you were -- after you heard the gunshot, as you were      16 going further in the woods, did you personally see the dog?      17 A. No, sir, I did not.      18 Q. Did you personally see the gun?      19 A. No, sir, I did not.      20 Q. You heard Officer Stewart testify that when David Cotney      21 was -- I think he said when you were with David Cotney, he was      22 five yards from the gun and the dog? Do you remember him being      23 that close to the dog?      24 A. No, sir. I -- first time I saw the dog, they had already      25 brought him back out of the woods. You were present for the testimony of Investigator Stewart 9 and Sims earlier today; is that correct? 10 A. Yes, sir. 11 Q. Without being redundant on what they talked about, 12 Mr. Stewart, or Investigator Stewart, indicated that you and 13 Major Carlton approached what turned out to be a methamphetamine 14 lab on the right side, as opposed to Mr. Stewart, when he was on 15 the left. 16 A. Correct. 17 Q. He also indicated that Investigator Sims identified himself 18 by yelling out that he was a police officer and instructing one 19 individual that he didn't know at the time to raise his hands. 20 A. That's correct. 21 Q. Is that accurate as the way that you remember it? 22 A. Yes, sir. 23 Q. Okay. So your dog had been trained once and recertified twice? 12 Would that be accurate? Or recertified once? 13 A. Recertified once. 14 Q. Your canine partner was with you on that day; is that right? 15 A. Yes, sir. 16 Q. Yourself, your canine partner, and Major Carlton were 17 standing together and in a different location than the other 18 three officers. 19 A. Yes, sir. 20 Q. Tell us what happened at that point. 21 A. Once Investigator Sims started yelling police, I observed 22 two subjects start running into the woods. I gave the command 23 that I was a sheriff's K-9, stop or I would release the dog. I 24 gave that warning two or three times. At that time, I released 25 the dog.

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 101 1 A. Yes, sir. 2 Q. What was the canine partner's name? 3 A. Narco. 4 Q. Was your canine partner -- how long had he been your 5 partner? 6 A. Almost two years. 7 Q. Two years? 8 A. A little shy. 9 Q. Did you own that dog before he became your canine partner, 10 or were you issued that canine as part of your duties? 11 A. He was paid for with donations. 12 Q. Donations from the community? 13 A. Yes, sir. 14 Q. Did you actually go to training with the canine partner? 15 A. Yes, sir. 16 Q. Would you explain a little bit about what that entails? 17 A. It was five weeks in Indiana at a formal school that is 18 accredited by the Indiana Law Enforcement Academy. It's five 19 weeks, 14-, 16-hour days, of nothing but training, as far as 20 drug detection, apprehensions, building searches. Pretty much 21 it. 22 Q. So your dog was trained both to alert for narcotics but was 23 also trained in apprehension? 24 A. Yes, sir. 25 Q. Was he trained in explosives as well?	October 15, 2003 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 103 1 Q. How far away from you -- were you from the individual that 2 you saw when you released your dog? 3 A. Forty to 50 yards, probably. 4 Q. After -- what happened after you released your dog? 5 A. I lost sight of him for just a couple of seconds. And just 6 as -- I was moving through some -- a thick part of the woods. 7 And as they came back into view was at the same moment that the 8 gunshot went off. I saw K-9 Narco fall. At that time, I 9 observed who we later identified as Mr. Cotney start turning 10 towards me with the gun. I thought he was going to fire on me 11 at that time. I returned fire. 12 Q. How many times did you return fire? 13 A. Five rounds. 14 Q. What happened after that? Did you go to chase after 15 Mr. Cotney? 16 A. Well, when I fired, Mr. Cotney went down. I thought he had 17 been hit. I stopped firing. He got up and took off running 18 again. At that time, I did give chase. I stopped when I got to 19 Narco, though, and picked him up and checked him. And he was 20 already gone, so I went on in after Mr. Cotney. And I had 21 already started giving out a clothing description over the radio 22 to the other officers, and I heard Investigator Sims start 23 yelling that he had him. So I just went towards the voice. 24 Q. Okay. Let me take a step back. When you released Narco, 25 did -- was he barking? I mean was --

Yes, sir. 11 Q. Did you then go to where Investigator Sims was located? 12 A. Yes, sir. 13 Q. What happened then? 14 A. I saw -- Investigator Sims had one hand in his -- in his 15 hands, which looked like he was trying to get him handcuffed. I 16 started yelling to Investigator Sims that he had a gun. When you looked around and saw the dog, did you 2 instinctively just react and shoot it? 3 A. Yes, sir. It happened within a second. 4 Q. Matter of a second? 5 A. Just a second or two. I turned over and there was a dog 6 hooked to my leg and I shot it. 7 Q. Did you see any other officers around you or any other 8 people around you when you shot? 9 A. No, sir. After about a couple of seconds after I shot, I 10 started hearing two different individuals shooting, but I 11 couldn't see either one of them. They were still a ways away 12 from me. 13 Q. Did you leave the gun right where you shot the dog and take 14 off running? 15 A. Instantly. 16 Q. You never pumped the shotgun, did you? 17 A. No, sir. 18 Q. You had no intention of firing back at whoever was firing at 19 you, did you? 20 A. No, sir. 21 Q. You were just trying to get out of there. 22 A. I was trying my best to, but I kept falling down. 23 Q. The leg that was bitten, did it ultimately cause you not to 24 be able to run anymore? 25 A. Yes, sir.	October 15, 2003 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 122 1 you made? 2 A. I might have made some statements; but some of that stuff, I 3 know I haven't said. 4 Q. And as you look back on what you've done and what you've got 5 yourself into, can you honestly sit up in there and say that 6 you're remorseful for everything that's happened? 7 A. Yes. 8 MR. DEAN: That's all I have, Your Honor. 9 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Brown, cross-examine? 10 MR. All right. Who cut your jeans open so that they could take 20 the picture? 21 A. I'm not sure. 22 Q. Was it a paramedic or was it an officer or do you know? 23 A. It was an officer. Yes, sir. 4 Q. You couldn't put any weight on it, as a matter of fact, 5 could you? 6 A. No, sir. 7 Q. David, you've heard and read a lot about your not accepting 8 responsibility for this. You know you pled guilty to two counts 9 in this case. Have you accepted responsibility for this crime? 10 A. Yes, sir. 11 Q. If you had it to do over again, what would you do different? 12 A. I would never mess with methamphetamine again or associate 13 with the people that I knew did. 14 Q. Were you using methamphetamine pretty regularly at the time? 15 A. Every day. 16 Q. You've seen in your presentence report some pretty 17 inflammatory statements supposedly made by your codefendants, 18 Mr. Weldon and Mr. Nelson. 19 A. Yes, sir. 20 Q. Now, I'm sure when you were arrested in Montgomery County 21 Jail -- I mean the Montgomery City Jail, the federal wing, you 22 were -- I'm sure you were angry and frustrated at the world in 23 general. And then I 9 was trying to get a little bit where I could get undercover from 10 their fire, and I dove behind something. And then I heard an 11 officer holler for me to get my hands in the air. And that was the first time that you knew that -- well, when 20 they said something was the first time that you knew that 21 anybody there was a police officer. 22 A. Yes, sir. 23 Q. All right. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 128 1 himself. He had in fact already had an altercation with someone 2 over one of the precursors of making methamphetamine. And to 3 claim that when he got caught -- to shoot a narcotics-trained 4 dog flies in the face of logic. And the government feels that 5 that objection should be denied. 6 The probation officer's recommended and the defense has 7 objected in objections number two and three involving 8 obstruction of justice and acceptance of responsibility. I 9 think the testimony, the government feels, is clear that the law 10 enforcement officers did everything that they could to identify 11 themselves. And it would be difficult to imagine that these 12 individuals did not know -- and Mr. Cotney, specifically -- did 13 not know that these were law enforcement officers based on the 14 fact that they began running immediately after they were 15 identified as such. The probation officer -- office has also 16 recommended that acceptance of responsibility be denied on 17 those -- on that basis. 18 In terms of objection number four, the -- 19 THE COURT: Well, let me ask you before you move away 20 from three -- 21 MR. BROWN: Yes, sir. 22 THE COURT: -- there are two other things in here. 23 There's an objection to -- this is under objection number 24 three. And 4 Agent DeJohn and Ms. Kelly gave testimony on that. I think 5 there was already testimony on objection number five, which 6 relates to the leader-organizer role. The objection number six 7 relates to the risk to others. I think we've already heard 8 that. And objection number seven relates to some material that 9 was not considered in calculating the guideline range. So I 10 don't -- I believe, if I've written those down correctly, then 11 we have heard testimony on all of the other -- 12 THE COURT: Okay. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 132 1 A. He stated that on April the 18th of '03, while an inmate at 2 the Elmore County Jail, the defendant broke off the sprinkler 3 head in his cell and flooded the room. He stated there was 4 approximately $600 in damage to the property. 5 Q. Was this damage accidental? 6 A. He said it was definitely intentional. 7 Q. Did you also have the opportunity to speak with someone in 8 relation to the codefendants in this case? 9 A. I did. 10 Q. What information did you receive by looking into that 11 aspect? 12 A. I was told by Codefendant Nelson's probation officer that 13 Nelson had told him that David Cotney had made threats toward 14 Deputy Parrish after they had been arrested for the instant 15 offense. So I went over to the Montgomery City Jail and talked 16 with Mr. Nelson, asked him about the threats. He told me that 17 David Cotney had threatened to, after he was released from 18 prison, dig up Narco and throw him on Deputy Parrish's front 19 yard. He had threatened to shoot Deputy Parrish and to shoot 20 any other dog that Deputy Parrish might have. I then went and 21 talked with the other codefendant, Mr. Weldon, and he told me 22 that he had also heard David Cotney threaten to shoot Deputy 23 Parrish after they were arrested and were in the city jail. 24 Q. Did you speak with Mr. Cotney about these statements? 25 A. No. I have not. Risa L. The incident in the Elmore County Jail, how did -- do you 2 know how Mr. Cotney came to be housed in the Elmore County Jail? 3 A. I understand that there was a threatened jailbreak at the 4 Montgomery City Jail. I don't believe they -- anyone actually 5 broke out, but they attempted to or had a plan to, and that the 6 marshals thought that he was in on this, so they moved him to 7 Elmore County Jail. And after they investigated, they found out 8 that he was not involved in this. 9 Q. Okay. But that's why he was in Elmore County to begin with. 10 A. That's my understanding. 11 Q. All right. Are there any other inconsistencies aside from 12 that, the identifying nature of the law enforcement officers, 13 the continuing threats, that would indicate that, in your 14 opinion, the defendant has not shown acceptance of 15 responsibility or has otherwise obstructed justice? 16 A. I think that pretty well covers it. 17 MR. BROWN: Thank you. No further questions. 18 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Dean, do you wish to 19 cross-examine? 20 MR. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 133 1 Q. Did you speak to him about the damage that was in the Elmore 2 County Jail? 3 A. Yes, I did. I found that out early in the investigation. 4 The part about the threats to Deputy Parrish I found out much 5 later in the investigation. Mr. David Cotney said that it was 6 strictly accidental. He did not mean to do it. He didn't 7 realize it was a sprinkler head, I believe is what he said. 8 Q. And correct me if I'm wrong, but your recommendation against 9 awarding acceptance of responsibility credit in this case stems 10 from the inconsistencies between what you've been told by the 11 codefendants and Mr. Bowers and what both Mr. Cotney told you in 12 the past and what he stated here under oath today? 13 A. You mean my enhancements and recommendations as to 14 acceptance of responsibility and obstruction of justice? 15 Q. Right. 16 A. That is part of it. Continuing threats is not acceptance of 17 responsibility, which he has made toward Deputy Parrish. Also, 18 the large part of it is I didn't feel he accepted responsibility 19 and obstructed justice because he told me he never saw officers, 20 never knew they were law enforcement officers, never saw their 21 identifying uniforms, never heard them identify themselves. It 22 was my opinion based on the proximity of where he was from the 23 officers that he had to have seen some of their identifying 24 uniforms and he had to have heard them continuously identify 25 themselves as law enforcement officers. Risa L. Did you hear the officers 2 testify -- one of them testify that they were trying to sneak up 3 on these gentlemen in the woods? 4 A. That they were trying to sneak up? 5 Q. So they wouldn't be seen, the officers? Isn't that logical 6 when you're going up on a crime site? 7 A. I didn't hear anyone testify to that. 8 Q. You didn't hear when I asked them if they were -- 9 Mr. Parrish if they were trying to sneak along, they weren't 10 just waving at them coming across the field? You didn't hear 11 that? 12 A. No. I didn't hear that. 13 Q. Would you suppose that that's what law enforcement would 14 do? They would try to slip up on somebody before they were 15 seen? Doesn't that make logical sense in a field? 16 A. I don't think I could answer that, not being in that type 17 situation in law enforcement. 18 Q. Did you hear the officers testify -- particularly Officer 19 Clay Stewart testify that he was 25 to 35 feet and couldn't 20 identify the people, could not see what they were doing with 21 their hands? He remembers the color blue, he could see 22 movement, but that there were trees and there were bushes 23 between he and the individuals. Did you hear that testimony? 24 A. I did. 25 Q. To me, the identifying uniforms that the officers had on 10 would be much more obvious than what someone would be doing with 11 their hands. These are bold, primarily white, large letters 12 identifying them as police on a black background -- or a 13 sheriff, and then you've got the sheriff's uniform. And also, I 14 didn't hear Officer Stewart say that he knew any of these 15 people, you know, to begin with. He said he didn't identify 16 them to begin with. I didn't hear him say that he knew them 17 before that. 18 Q. I think you're correct. What I was getting at was that he 19 couldn't -- he didn't go in there and identify clothing. He 20 couldn't tell enough about them through the woods to get a -- if 21 they had gone and they hadn't caught them, I don't think Officer 22 Stewart could have sat there and drawn out a sketch of them, 23 because he just didn't have that much -- that great a 24 visibility. United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 137 1 The officers have been sneaking across there -- and I don't 2 mean that ugly. That's what you do. I've been there. You 3 sneak across something; and when you get close, you're going to 4 have to identify yourself. Let's move on, if you will, with me to the Elmore County 14 Jail. It's my understanding that my client was falsely accused 15 of participating in a jailbreak and was taken over to Elmore 16 County. But is there any other credible evidence that my client made 2 those statements? 3 A. I've not talked with anyone other than the two codefendants 4 and the two other probation officers regarding the statements 5 that your client made. 6 Q. And is there any reason why you didn't discuss that with 7 Mr. Cotney or ask him about it? 8 A. No. It was just later on in the investigation. 9 Q. And when he sat up there today and he said I probably did 10 mouth off and say some things, but I didn't say everything they 11 said, and he apologized or basically said he was remorseful for 12 it, is that not of any significance? 13 A. Saying -- continuously saying you're sorry is not 14 significant, as far as I'm concerned. But I think that is very 15 important, that there are statements made by other people that 16 he did make these threats after the arrest. I think these are 17 very serious threats -- 18 Q. Well -- 19 A. -- that you're going to shoot a law enforcement officer 20 after you're released. I also think, like I said, that the fact 21 that he has denied continuously that he ever knew they were law 22 enforcement officers and continues to deny that, to me, there's 23 evidence that doesn't support his statements. 24 Q. And that's what we went over with the first -- 25 A. Yes.

The government's position is the fact alone that a      5 team had to be called to clean up the area would show that there      6 were hazardous materials to the area. But specifically, the      7 testimony of Agent DeJohn and Ms. Kelly with the Department of      8 Forensic Sciences who testified, Ms. Kelly specifically, about      9 the strong odor of ether in the area along with the ammonia,      10 which had been transferred at some point between those two tanks      11 and could potentially cause a leak based on the valve that was      12 on the second tank, in particular, would show that there were      13 hazards to the area.      14 Detective Stewart mentioned that there was a well right      15 there by the cabin, which would show that the potential for any      16 kind of alteration of the groundwater there -- there was a      17 potential for that. And that, in fact, was something that could      18 not even -- if it had been noticed, would not have been able to      19 be cleaned up by the company that Agent DeJohn called to do the      20 other portions of the cleanup.      21 Mr. Cotney's fifth objection relates to      22 leader-organizer role. And I think -- I believe it was      23 Mr. Stewart's testimony that based on the information provided      24 by Mr. Cotney himself, along with the other individuals,      25 indicated that Mr. Cotney was the leader of the individuals that Risa L. It's 7 clear that there was a risk that was posed by him by the fact 8 that he was shooting. I know that Sergeant Parrish indicated 9 that when he swung -- when Mr. Cotney swung around in his 10 direction, he was -- clearly thought that there was a risk 11 involved, and that's why he returned fire. But in addition to 12 that, the -- both Agent DeJohn and Ms. Kelly indicated the 13 highly volatile nature of the ether that was in the area; and 14 had some sort of gunshot or spark resulting from that gunshot -- 15 had that occurred, then there was -- there was the potential for 16 a disaster. I mean somebody -- more persons than the one police 17 K-9 could have been killed in that respect. 18 And then as I read the objection, the response to 19 number seven, that that is some factual information that was 20 included in the probation officer's report but which has no 21 impact on the guideline range. So I don't know -- I don't think 22 the Court requires the government's response to that particular 23 objection. 24 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. 25 All right. My client consistently -- and although he has given a 4 proffer and he has opened up and told everything he knows about 5 the drug business, about what happened that day with him, about 6 his involvement with his codefendants -- even a motion for a 7 three-point downward departure was filed on behalf of the 8 government. I can't understand how he can do that and at the 9 same time not be given credit for acceptance of responsibility. 10 Not only has he accepted responsibility, he has 11 provided names. He has offered to testify, if need be. And not 12 only has he accepted responsibility, he has -- he's put his own 13 life in danger of what might happen to him down the road, 14 whether he's in the federal penitentiary or whether he gets out 15 one day. DEAN: Your Honor, I have tried to focus my 7 questioning today towards the enhancements in the presentence 8 report. My objections were based on the enhancements and facts 9 that the probation officer had developed an opinion about and 10 facts that my client has told me from day one were what he best 11 remembered. 12 As Your Honor knows, he pled guilty to the conspiracy 13 to manufacture charge, which the statutory mandatory minimum is 14 ten years. He's pled guilty to the firearm charge, which is 15 another statutory minimum mandatory. And then his recommended 16 sentence has been enhanced to take him to level 44 in the 17 federal sentencing guidelines, and they're -- and they stop at 18 43. 19 Your Honor, this has been a tough case, I think, for 20 everybody, because there's the death of a drug dog involved. I 21 think it's hard to, on one way -- one way or the other, not take 22 a personal approach to this case. It's very unique. 23 The enhancements for obstruction of justice as well as 24 some of the other ones that I've objected to deal mainly with my 25 client -- as well as they're not getting the acceptance of	Risa L. Entrekin, RDR, CRR U.S. District Court One Church Street, Montgomery, AL 36104 334-240-2405 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 147 1 under that Section 2 -- I don't remember the exact section, but 2 the section -- the enhancement for the substantial risk to the 3 environment. 4 I've dealt with David Cotney now one on one since his 5 initial appearance and detention hearing. I talked with him at 6 length in jail visits. And he's consistently told me that he 7 did not recognize them as officers. I've been to the scene. 8 I've seen the site of the lab. I've measured the distance from 9 where his truck was parked where officers said they first 10 noticed him, where they walked in, where they first saw him 11 run. And I think an equal reasonable argument can be made on 12 his behalf, just as Ms. Joanne Sellers argued that he should 13 have seen them. 14 I'd like Your Honor to be aware that Mr. Cotney has 15 been indicted in state court on two charges. One of them is for 16 killing the drug dog, under an Alabama statute. That is a 17 separate case from this federal drug charge. It will be dealt 18 with in state court. So I just ask Your Honor when deciding and 19 handing down a sentence to Mr. Cotney, just remember that the 20 dog incident is separate, as far as being charged in state 21 court, than it is from this conspiracy to manufacture 22 methamphetamine, which he's pled guilty. 23 The enhancement for substantial risk of serious bodily 24 harm that I objected to, I would point out to the Court once 25 again that while my client admits to shooting the dog, he shot

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 148 1 him when he was latched onto his leg at point-blank range. He 2 dropped the gun. He never ejected the shell. He never pumped 3 one back into the chamber. And it's been his position with me 4 that he never pointed the weapon at any of the other officers. 5       He testified as to being in jail, as to what his 6 codefendants said that he said about Deputy Parrish and what he 7 might do. And he has testified under oath that he probably did 8 say some things in the heat of anger, knowing that he had thrown 9 his life away. And he's had time to think about them, and he is 10 remorseful for them. 11       Your Honor, I just -- I just ask you to consider that 12 there are two sides to the material assertions in these 13 enhancements. Without the enhancements given, over 150 grams is 14 a base level 34, not to mention the statutory firearm charge 15 that he's pled guilty to. And I hate to see personal feelings 16 about the drug dog lead to an enhancement that takes him -- at 17 the age of 30 years old, with two misdemeanors on his record -- 18 takes him to a range of 43, which is -- which is life, 19 notwithstanding the three-level downward departure filed through 20 motion by the government. 21       And Your Honor, in closing, I would just say to the 22 Court that I don't think anybody, including Mr. Cotney, doesn't 23 feel sorry and have remorse that a drug dog, who was -- you 24 know, he was an animal partner to these deputies, that he was 25 killed. But my client is a 30-year-old human being who, prior October 15, 2003	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 148 1 looked at the -- with the assistance of the probation office, 18 2 U.S. Code 3664 where it discusses restitution. And in paragraph 3 (d)(5), it states that if the victim's losses are not 4 ascertainable by the date ten days prior to sentencing -- which, 5 of course, we thought they were ascertainable by that time, just 6 we didn't know about the recompensation -- that the Court can 7 set a date within 90 days to determine the actual figure. And I 8 would ask the Court for some period of time to get an accurate 9 figure of what the actual community recompensation was. 10       I don't -- I'm not quite prepared -- and I apologize 11 for that -- to take into account exactly what the money provided 12 by the community -- what impact it has on the restitution order 13 as well. I did look at paragraph (f)(1)(B), and there it states 14 that the fact that a victim has received or is entitled to 15 receive compensation with respect to a loss from insurance or 16 any other source be considered in determining the amount of 17 restitution, which would indicate that notwithstanding the 18 community's efforts, the restitution might still be proper. Ms. Kelly testified that 19 based on her analysis, using a 75-percent yield, that 20 approximately 155 grams of methamphetamine could be produced by 21 the chemicals that were at the site of the offense. The 22 objections to that primarily state that the -- that a theory or 23 theoretical quantity would not be appropriate way of calculating 24 the drug quantity. 1       The government's opinion would be that the case that      2 defendant also cites, which is United States versus Blaylock,      3 B-L-A-Y-L-O-C-K, at 249 F.3d 1298, which is a 2001 case out of      4 this circuit, does support that. That case has had a fairly      5 different history in the appellate courts, but the final opinion      6 issued there does state that actual methamphetamine yield based      7 on a hundred percent theoretical yield would be permissible      8 absent some evidence rebutting that. In this case, Ms. Kelly      9 used a 75-percent yield to -- rather than a hundred percent      10 yield. So the government's position would be that that would be      11 an accurate amount for which to sentence the defendant. 12       That is also an objection of Mr. Weldon, and the      13 government's position would be the same for Mr. Weldon. 14       THE COURT: Do you have any comment about the fact that      15 there is now a new table that applies to precursor drugs? 16       MR. BROWN: This case was a conspiracy to manufacture      17 methamphetamine. The defendants were intending to manufacture      18 an amount of methamphetamine. And the amount of methamphetamine      19 that they were intending to manufacture, the government's      20 position, is more appropriately determined by the end product,      21 because that was what they conspired to do. They didn't      22 conspire to manufacture 15-percent yield methamphetamine. I'm      23 sure they desired to produce a hundred percent yield      24 methamphetamine. I'm sure that was their goal. Yet 75 percent,      25 according to Department of Forensic Sciences, is an average		1       the arrest?      2       MR. BROWN: The day of the -- the day of the incident.      3       THE COURT: Because I don't recall that testimony,      4 but --      5       MR. BROWN: I think that was Mr. -- Investigator      6 Stewart's testimony.      7       THE COURT: Okay.      8       MR. BROWN: Mr. Nelson's -- Mr. Nelson's third      9 objection relates to the hazardous materials. And I think      10 that's been adequately covered by the government's argument as      11 it related to Mr. Cotney. And then unless there were some      12 supplemental objections, which those are the ones I had down,      13 that was all of Mr. Nelson's objections. 14       THE COURT: All right. And you were not going to cover      15 all of Mr. Weldon's at this time. That's fine. All right.      16       All right. Mr. Lewis? 17       MR. LEWIS: Thank you, Your Honor. Your Honor, we did      18 not actually -- I appreciate the probation officer noting that      19 we do not believe the defendant should receive the two-level gun      20 enhancement under 2D1.1(b)(1). We actually did not object to      21 that gun enhancement in our written objection that we filed. We      22 may have groused about it verbally a little bit, but I      23 appreciate their taking cognizance of that. 24       THE COURT: Do you want to withdraw that? 25       MR. 1       which they use as a standard. And the government's position      2 would be that would be the more applicable guideline, 2D1.1,      3 versus the precursor chemical section. 4       THE COURT: All right. 5       MR. BROWN: Mr. Nelson's second objection relates to      6 the two-level gun enhancement under 2D1.1 as well. And the      7 testimony from both -- from Mr. -- from Mr. Nelson was that he      8 was aware that Mr. Cotney had the firearm the night before, and      9 on that date Mr. Weldon knew that the -- that Mr. Cotney had the      10 gun. He did not -- there is no testimony as to whether he had      11 it the day before. So the government's position with respect to      12 Mr. Nelson's second and Mr. Weldon's second objection as it      13 relates to the gun would be that -- would be consistent with the      14 probation officer's report. 15       THE COURT: Now, tell me as to Weldon what you say the      16 testimony was as to the gun. 17       MR. BROWN: That he was aware that Mr. Cotney had the      18 gun. But he was not, apparently, there the night before,      19 according to the information that Mr. -- that Investigator      20 Stewart said. He -- Mr. Weldon was not there before, the night      21 before, so he didn't know whether or not -- or would not have      22 known, if that were the case, whether Mr. Cotney had the gun the      23 night before. 24       THE COURT: Are you saying that you understand that      25 witness testified that he did know that he had it on the day of		1       good. As a matter of fact, one of the reasons that -- one of      2 the reasons that our client is considered to have knowledge of      3 the gun was because he told -- when he was talking to the      4 officers about Mr. Cotney, he said, Mr. Cotney had a gun; I knew      5 he had a gun. And if he knew he had a gun, he knew he had a      6 gun. And he knew he was conspiring to manufacture      7 methamphetamine. 8       I still don't like it. I think that Mr. Cotney ought      9 to be labeled with the gun and my client should not, so --      10 because my client didn't exercise any right of control over that      11 gun, didn't exercise any ownership right over the gun. In fact,      12 for all that appears in the record, he never touched that      13 weapon. 14       Let's go to what I consider to be the two important      15 areas, Your Honor. One is, we think the base level offense in      16 this case ought to be 26 and not -- we said not 32, and then we      17 were informed later, no, it's going up to 34 now, based on      18 quantity of drugs. Now, I've got to tell the Court that I'm the      19 person who called the government's attention to United States      20 versus Blaylock. I did that out of -- out of an abundance of      21 caution and mindful of my role as an officer of the Court, that      22 I have to call the Court's attention to any adverse law in      23 connection with any law that I'm citing. So I've done that. 24       But I don't consider Blaylock to be adverse. I think      25 Blaylock can be harmonized with my objection in this case.

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 156 1 Blaylock says, it is thus the rule of this circuit that a 2 district court may base its estimate of actual methamphetamine 3 yield upon an expert's 100 percent calculation -- expert's 4 calculation of the 100 percent theoretical yield, at least where 5 there's no evidence presented by the defendants to rebut an 6 estimate. 7 Your Honor, you will recall my examination of the 8 witness in this case, and that was Ms. Melissa Kelly. She said 9 that she used a 75 percent yield because, and I quote, 75 10 percent is what we generally find. She said she also estimated 11 it at 100 percent, and she also estimated it at 50 percent 12 because both of those numbers are within the theoretical range 13 of possibility in this case. 14 She did not testify as to actual methamphetamine. The 15 Court will note that the DFS report itself, which is before the 16 Court, never talked about actual methamphetamine. The witness 17 would not use the word "actual methamphetamine." And I asked 18 her, is there a difference. Yeah, there's a difference. We 19 didn't have any actual methamphetamine. And that's what the 20 circuits around the country have been saying. And that is that 21 if you've got actual methamphetamine, that's what you ought to 22 be basing your estimate of purity on. 23 Let me call the Court's attention to United States 24 versus Houston. That is an Eighth Circuit case, 338 F.3d 876. 25 I'm going to read a paragraph at 878 through 79:	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 158 1 methamphetamine. And yet the statute does and the sentencing 2 guidelines do. 3 We would simply suggest that there's been insufficient 4 evidence from any source that the defendant should be charged 5 with 155.6 grams of actual methamphetamine when in fact the 6 defendant should be charged with 155 grams of methamphetamine. 7 That takes it out of the thirties, Your Honor, and puts it down 8 to 26. And we would suggest, based on the testimony in this 9 case and the evidence before the Court, including the toxicology 10 report, that that's where this case needs to be. 11 THE COURT: Now, where -- point me to the table that 12 you're using where you say 26. 13 MR. HALSTROM: Paragraph seven. 14 MR. LEWIS: Yeah. Well, it's -- on the table, Your 15 Honor, or in the sentencing report? 16 THE COURT: I want you to tell me -- you're saying a 17 level of 26. Tell me what that's based on. 18 MR. LEWIS: Yes, sir. That would be level 26 based on 19 50 to less than 200 grams of meth mix. And I'm sorry. I don't 20 have my drug table here. 21 MR. HALSTROM: That's 2D1.1(7). 22 PROBATION OFFICER: Page 120. 23 MR. LEWIS: Okay. 2D1.1(7). 24 THE COURT: 2D1.1(7), you say? 25 MR. LEWIS: That's what I'm told, Your Honor.

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 157 1 When use of the actual methamphetamine alternative 2 produces a greater sentence, the government must prove the 3 actual methamphetamine content of the substance or substances in 4 question. The government may prove the total quantity of actual 5 methamphetamine in a series of transactions by testing the 6 purity of the seized quantity and applying the percentage of 7 actual methamphetamine in the tested quantity to the unrecovered 8 quantities. When no quantity has been recovered, the government 9 may prove the purity of quantities attributed to the defendant 10 by circumstantial evidence -- for example, a conspirator's 11 reliable testimony that purchased amphetamine was undiluted, 12 unadulterated, not cut, pure -- or an expert's testimony as to 13 the normal purity of methamphetamine produced in a lab. 14 There is a difference, Your Honor, between normal 15 methamphetamine produced in a lab and methamphetamine produced 16 in a clandestine lab out in the -- in the woods of Chambers 17 County. And in fact, the expert said she could not relate their 18 experience in a lab to what would come out of a clandestine 19 lab. What she did say was that this was not actual 20 methamphetamine. The defendant pleaded guilty to conspiracy to 21 manufacture 50 grams or more of methamphetamine, not actual 22 methamphetamine. And Your Honor, if actual methamphetamine was 23 to be used in every case, even in the Eleventh Circuit, then the 24 statute itself would be redundant. The statute would have no 25 reason to differentiate between actual methamphetamine and	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 159 1 THE COURT: All right. Go ahead. 2 MR. LEWIS: My other argument has to do with the harm 3 to the environment. Your Honor, the probation officer points 4 out correctly that pursuant to Sentencing Guideline 5 2D1.1(b)(5)(B), if the offense involves the manufacture of 6 methamphetamine and created a substantial risk of harm to human 7 life or the environment, increase by three levels. 8 Your Honor listened to the testimony just as I did. 9 Officer DeJohn, who is a renowned law enforcement officer in 10 these parts and who has busted no fewer than ten methamphetamine 11 labs, says he calls the haz mat team in every case and has 12 called the haz mat team in every case. And we asked him 13 further -- and I think Mr. Halstrom actually asked him this 14 also. Is every -- does every methamphetamine lab create a 15 substantial risk of harm to the environment? He says yes. 16 Well, Your Honor, if that were true, then we've got superfluity 17 in the law; because if that were true, there would be no reason 18 to say, and if it also created a substantial risk of harm to the 19 environment, increase by three levels. 20 If we're going to give effect to the sentencing 21 guidelines, Your Honor, we have to draw a distinction between 22 those cases in which there is a substantial risk of harm and a 23 case in which there is simply the inherent risk of harm that 24 comes from manufacturing methamphetamine. There's no method of 25 manufacturing methamphetamine -- and there are literally scores

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 160 1 of such methods -- that do not involve one or more hazardous 2 precursors that, if released into the environment, would create 3 some harm. 4 In this case, Your Honor, the methamphetamine 5 clandestine lab was outside. The risk of harm from ether comes 6 when it's confined in a small space. You don't have any risk 7 when it's outside in the open air, because you cannot create the 8 flash point because of volumetric concerns; and there was no 9 testimony that you could do so. Your Honor and I are old enough 10 to have experienced ether. You can breathe that stuff and 11 survive. Now they use all this Valium and stuff like that. But 12 the fact is that ether, pure ether, has medicinal purposes. 13 There is no evidence that this was released in a liquid form 14 into the ground in which it could have created a risk of harm. 15 There is no evidence whatsoever that any lithium was 16 ever allowed into the environment in any form. The batteries 17 were sealed. The batteries were in -- in commercial packaging 18 that was, in most cases, still sealed. The anhydrous ammonia 19 was in the container for which -- the container which was 20 designed to hold anhydrous ammonia. If it created a risk of 21 harm by being in that container, then anybody who sells 22 anhydrous ammonia is going to be creating that risk of harm. 23 The testimony originally on direct from Ms. Kelly was 24 that there was some anhydrous ammonia in the propane tank. 25 Well, on cross, it turns out that they were able to scrape some	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 162 1 my client, Mr. Nelson. 2 MR. BROWN: May I respond, Your Honor, to a couple 3 points? 4 THE COURT: All right. 5 MR. BROWN: First, I think it's totally appropriate if 6 the Court could recommend to the Bureau of Prisons that these 7 individuals be separated upon their incarceration. I think that 8 is an excellent idea, and we'll be forwarding that request to 9 the marshal's office as well. 10 In response to the drug quantity argument made by 11 Mr. Lewis, I looked at the precursor quantity, which, again, 12 I -- the government's position is that that quantity, that 13 guidelines quantity, would not be the more appropriate quantity 14 to use in this case. But just looking at the quantity, 15 according Ms. Kelly's report, the actual grams of 16 pseudoephedrine in the three different containers added up -- 17 and if I'm correct, it's 229.7 grams. If the Court were to use 18 the precursor chemical guideline, that would be a level 32 and 19 not a level 26. 20 And I'm not suggesting the Court use that. But what I 21 am suggesting is that, obviously, there is a -- more of a 22 correlation between the amount of pseudoephedrine that was in 23 this sample that was analyzed by Ms. Kelly towards the 150-gram 24 quantity, as she laid out, as opposed to some other quantity; 25 that those, while they don't both equal level 34s, it is this

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 161 1 residue off; but in fact, these defendants had not put any 2 anhydrous ammonia in there. They had the big tank there for 3 their cook. There's no evidence how long that tank had been 4 there or how long it had been since anybody had put anhydrous 5 ammonia into that tank. In any event, that wasn't happening at 6 that time. There was no testimony of corroded valves or 7 anything else that created the substantial risk of harm to the 8 environment. 9 And Your Honor, if we are to breathe life into these 10 sentencing guidelines, we must hold the government to its 11 proof. And that proof has got to include not only that there 12 was a conspiracy to manufacture methamphetamine, which we all 13 concede, but that, in addition to that, it created a risk of 14 harm to the environment that is not present in your ordinary 15 methamphetamine case. And that is the only way the Court can 16 view that. And we would ask that that enhancement, that 17 three-level enhancement, be removed from Mr. Nelson's 18 sentencing. 19 I have one other thing I would like to ask -- add, Your 20 Honor. And that is based on the testimony that I have heard 21 recently, I would move the Court at this point -- and will be 22 willing to file written motions to that effect if the Court 23 desires -- to have the defendants in this case, upon sentencing 24 and commitment to the Bureau of Prisons, housed in separate 25 institutions. And I also would urge the Court to have mercy on	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 163 1 level 32. It is fairly close. So the Guidelines Commission 2 obviously looked at that as being the more appropriate analysis, 3 if you will. 4 And I apologize to the Court. I've given up all of my 5 toxicology reports, but I think I have added that correctly. 6 Thank you. 7 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Lewis? 8 MR. LEWIS: Judge, may I say one thing? And I believe 9 if we're talking about the actual weight of the pseudoephedrine, 10 it was 155.61 grams, not two hundred and -- well -- 11 MR. HALSTROM: He's right if -- 12 MR. LEWIS: Oh, you're talking about the precursors. 13 I'll withdraw that because Mr. Brown's math is correct. 14 THE COURT: All right. Now, Mr. Brown, I want to hear 15 from you at this time on the other matters involving the 16 Defendant Weldon. I think there were some that you didn't 17 cover, if you want to be heard on them, role in the offense and 18 criminal history. 19 MR. BROWN: Right, Your Honor. I do think that I've 20 covered the first four objections but only -- or the first three 21 objections, leaving only the minimal participant role. I think 22 the only testimony that we heard was from Agent DeJohn and 23 Agent -- and Agent Stewart as part of information that was 24 obtained from proffer sessions to the government. I don't think 25 there's any doubt that Mr. Weldon is not at the level of

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 164 1 Mr. Cotney. But the government's position is -- agrees with the recommendation of the probation office as well as the officers in this case that Mr. Weldon and Mr. Nelson were equally involved. 5 As it relates to the criminal history category, in this case, an uncounseled misdemeanor conviction was used to enhance or to increase the level of criminal history category. In that particular case, although it was an uncounseled misdemeanor, it is my understanding that there was no suspended -- 10 MR. HALSTROM: Your Honor, if I may. 11 MR. BROWN: There was a suspended sentence. 12 MR. HALSTROM: We withdraw the uncounseled objection. I think the one the Court's interested in is the youthful offender count, for which there was one point added. And it was -- we contend it was eight years subsequent -- 16 MR. BROWN: And that was in your motion today? 17 Quite frankly, Your Honor, being involved in this sentencing all day today, I have not had the opportunity to look at that one particular thing. And regardless, the government would defer to the probation officer on that as well. 21 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Halstrom? 22 MR. HALSTROM: May it please the Court. We would, first of all, adopt the arguments that were offered on behalf of Mr. Nelson and won't go through the rhetoric and the eloquence with which Mr. Lewis expounded upon those. Risa L. If we use 229.7 grams, which is the weight of the pseudoephedrine involved, that would put it at a level 28 rather than a level 32, which is at least -- 5 THE COURT: Wait a minute. 6 MR. HALSTROM: -- at least 200 grams but less than 350 grams of methamphetamine. 8 THE COURT: Where are you looking now on level 28? 9 MR. HALSTROM: I think that's page 120 of the guidelines. About the fifth dot down, it talks about 200 grams but less than 350 grams of methamphetamine or at least 20 grams but less than 35 grams of methamphetamine actual. 13 THE COURT: You're referring to the methamphetamine table and not precursor table. The precursor table is on page 144. 16 MR. HALSTROM: That may be correct. Yeah. I'm not going on the same pages because I'm a year behind on this, Your Honor. But the facts of these cases, I think, are correct. At any rate, we contend and we agree with the comments of Mr. Lewis that this should be a base level 26 offense to start with. 21 Then we argue, regarding the substantial risk aspect to the environment, we feel that there are constitutional issues involved here. We don't feel -- we feel that the language there of substantial harm or substantial risk to the environment does not meet the sufficient definite -- requirement, and it Risa L. Entrekin, RDR, CRR U.S. District Court One Church Street, Montgomery, AL 36104 334-240-2405
United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 165 1 We would point to some direct evidence, however, in support of our argument that this should be a level 26 application, a base level 26. The first one is the indictment itself. And the Defendant Weldon was indicted to manufacture 50 grams or more of methamphetamine. That is what he was put on notice to defend. 7 The second aspect was raised by Mr. Lewis as well -- and I believe it's in Government's Exhibit #1 -- which is the toxicology report or the forensic report from Ms. Kelly, where she mentions or testifies that the substance produced would equate to 155.61 grams of methamphetamine. And she does not, even though questioned about the difference -- does not go to the point that that's actual. And we contend that it ought to be level 26. In addition to that, the preguidelines estimates that were established long ago initially set this at a level 28. I'm not sure how that level was produced, but that's what the -- Mr. Weldon was put on notice that he was facing. 18 Furthermore, in a conversation that I had with Mr. Brown on the 19th of May of this year, just prior to my going to talk to Mr. Weldon about entering a plea, I wanted to be sure what it was that we were dealing with. And Mr. Brown at that point concurred that we were dealing with a level 26, between 50 grams and less than 20 (sic) grams of methamphetamine, and actual was not an issue in this particular case. If you establish or go to the precursor chemicals Risa L. Entrekin, RDR, CRR U.S. District Court One Church Street, Montgomery, AL 36104 334-240-2405	United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon October 15, 2003 167 1 encourages an arbitrary and discriminatory enforcement of that particular enhancement. 3 Now, I'm speaking from language that comes from the statutes and not from language that comes from the guidelines, so I admit that initially. I haven't been able to find a case where this particular enhancement has been brought up before the appellate courts. But nonetheless, I would feel that in view of the testimony that's been provided, especially from Agent DeJohn, who testified that all meth labs posed a substantial risk to persons or the environment, that not only do you have a language issue of vagueness in the statute, but you have a real potential for a double jeopardy argument in that there's an inherent substantial risk to the environment for which the methamphetamine conspiracy case already applies a punishment. And now we're enhancing it for something that is inherent in the production of a meth lab. 17 Our -- we contend that as far as the minimal participant argument, that Agent DeJohn was clear in establishing a hierarchy of participation in this particular case; that he testified that Mr. Cotney was the organizer, the leader of the affair; that Mr. Nelson was the cook; and he wasn't sure exactly what Mr. Weldon's role is, but he was a participant in it. We pled guilty to the conspiracy. We agree that we're part of the conspiracy. But we contend that we are, at most, a minor participant and, at best, a minimal Risa L. 1 participant. And he's entitled to a four-level reduction if      2 he's a minimal participant; and if the Court determines he's a      3 minor participant, then he's entitled to a two-level reduction. 4 I think everything -- the testimony was that this was      5 an ongoing -- a several-day process. The night before,      6 Mr. Weldon is not available, or he's not in the lab area. He's      7 not participating in it. The evidence was that he didn't      8 purchase anything. He didn't supply anything. He moved some      9 things around. I think that his participation is obviously      10 different from the other two that are before the Court this      11 morning. 12 The dangerous weapon aspect, the only -- again, there      13 was evidence that Mr. Weldon had informed the agents that he was      14 aware that the weapon that they showed him was that -- did      15 belong to Mr. Cotney. There was no evidence that he was aware      16 that this weapon -- or it was reasonably foreseeable that this      17 weapon would be used by Mr. Cotney in the criminal endeavor.      18 None. There was no evidence that he was aware that it was there      19 on the scene when he was there. No one has testified to that.      20 And we don't think that Mr. Weldon should be responsible for a      21 two-level enhancement based on the firearm. 22 The youthful offender aspect -- and let me correct the      23 Court -- not the Court, but Mr. Brown and the probation office.      24 That youthful offender objection was submitted in my initial      25 objections to presentence investigation report. The only change		1 a criminal offense in the first place. Alabama law states that      2 the effect of the determination -- that in such determinations,      3 juvenile offenses shall not be deemed a conviction of a crime.      4 And so that's another grounds for which we think that this      5 particular offense should not receive a one-point addition in      6 his criminal history. 7 THE COURT: Okay. 8 MR. HALSTROM: And those are our objections, Your      9 Honor. 10 MR. LEWIS: Your Honor, to the extent applicable, I'd      11 like to adopt Mr. Halstrom's arguments as to those issues      12 applicable to my client, particularly the potential problem with      13 constitutionality of the enhancement. 14 THE COURT: Of the enhancement based on the      15 environmental and human hazard? 16 MR. 1 I made in the subsequent one is that I did not address the      2 firearm issue. And I don't know -- I think that was just a      3 plain oversight that that was not placed in the final report of      4 the probation office. But it's not brand new. The fact of the      5 matter is that the offense clearly was committed eight years      6 prior to the commencement of the instant offense. I believe      7 it's Section 4A1.2(d)(2) -- 8 THE COURT: Wait a minute. 9 MR. HALSTROM: -- capital (B). 10 THE COURT: Let me catch up with you. 4A1. -- 11 MR. I understand you put this in your objection,      15 but it was not in what I was looking at, so it's new to me. And      16 I think it's an oversight by probation. But we're talking about      17 paragraph 30 in the presentence report, aren't we? 18 MR. HALSTROM: That's correct. In the current      19 presentence report. 20 THE COURT: Okay. Now, you've pointed me to 4A1.2(d),      21 which says offenses committed prior to age 18. Paragraph 30      22 says that he was 18. Do you still contend that applies? 23 MR. HALSTROM: Well, I suspect I can't argue that it      24 was prior to 18 if he was 18 at the time. But I do also contend      25 that it should not apply because under Alabama law, this is not		1 minutes. 2 (Recess at 4:20 p.m. until 4:31 p.m.) 3 THE COURT: Mr. Brown, I neglected to ask you one thing      4 that I meant to, and that was to have your response to the      5 argument of Mr. Halstrom that he was told a lower amount by you      6 in negotiating a plea. 7 MR. HALSTROM: Your Honor, let me correct the Court's      8 thinking. It was not necessarily in the actual negotiation of a      9 plea. What I was really talking to Mr. Brown -- I don't want      10 the Court to misinterpret this. I was talking to Mr. Brown to      11 establish the level that we were talking about in getting my      12 client -- in talking to my client about a plea. So I can't      13 represent to the Court that this was a plea negotiation that he      14 would say it was 26 -- level 26. 15 MR. BROWN: And that level, Your Honor, came from the      16 preliminary guidelines estimate that was provided by probation.      17 And at the time, that's what we thought it would be. And it      18 turned out that it was not that. 19 THE COURT: That was -- and I understand from you it      20 was just a discussion as to what, preliminarily, you thought it      21 would be. And it turned out in the negotiation -- or in the      22 final analysis that it was something different. Is that -- 23 MR. BROWN: Yes, sir. 24 THE COURT: According to the probation office. 25 MR. BROWN: Yes, Your Honor.

1       THE COURT: All right. I'm first going to rule on the      2 drug quantity amount. There are specific objections from      3 Defendants Nelson and Weldon for the same rule to apply in the      4 Cotney case in determining what the offense level -- the      5 appropriate offense level is. First, as to the argument made by      6 two of the defendants that they pleaded guilty to 50 grams of      7 methamphetamine and in fact that there's a distinction between      8 methamphetamine and methamphetamine actual, that distinction is      9 made in the guidelines at certain places. But as far as the      10 statute is concerned that the defendants pleaded guilty to, the      11 statute speaks merely in terms of either methamphetamine or      12 methamphetamine mixture. 13       This is not a case of methamphetamine mixture.      14 Methamphetamine mixture is when manufactured methamphetamine is      15 taken and mixed with something else. The indictment charged the      16 defendants with an offense of methamphetamine, which, in effect,      17 would be the same thing under the statute as actual      18 methamphetamine. 19       So on the objection that the defendants pleaded guilty      20 to something that is not being -- that they're not being      21 sentenced for at this time, I overrule that objection. They      22 pleaded guilty to 50 grams of methamphetamine; and under the      23 statute, that's actual methamphetamine. We'll look at that,      24 then, as to where the tables go. 25       Now, the government would have me sentence under the	1 testimony of Ms. Kelly, the total amount of pseudoephedrine      2 falls within that range and, therefore, I find as a fact that      3 that's the amount of pseudoephedrine, the 129.7, I think, was      4 the final amount -- that that was the amount of      5 pseudoephedrine. And under the guidelines table that I just      6 referred to, the amount will be stated at level 32 rather than a      7 level 34. 8       Now, as to the enhancement for hazardous or toxic      9 substances under Section 2D1.15(b), which is a three-level --      10 enhancement under that section on the theory that the offense --      11 that provides that if the offense involved the manufacture of      12 methamphetamine or -- of amphetamine or methamphetamine -- it      13 did here -- and second, created a substantial risk of harm to      14 one human life other than a life described in subsection C or,      15 two, the environment, increase by three levels. It doesn't say      16 if the manufacture of the -- if the offense involved in this      17 case created the potential for substantial risk of harm to human      18 life or the environment. It says created a substantial risk of      19 harm. So I take that to mean that at the time of the raid and      20 the pickup, that at that time, a substantial risk of harm to      21 human life or the environment had been created at that time. 22       Under the testimony that I've heard, it appears to me      23 that the only difference between this offense and practically      24 all offenses is the -- of creation of methamphetamine is the      25 size of it. There are some ways that, despite the size, it

1 testimony of the chemist as to the projection of what the      2 possible yield of these precursor chemicals would be, Melissa      3 Kelly. I'm concerned about what that would be because of the      4 testimony that it was computed on 50 percent, 75 percent, 100      5 percent, that it could have a range of 30 percent to 90      6 percent. Frankly, I'm just simply not comfortable with dealing      7 with a projection as to what it could possibly be. And I've      8 studied the Blaylock case, and I think that's what we're dealing      9 with. 10       Now, I guess the bottom line on this is I'm going to      11 agree with what was pointed out by the -- in the concurrence and      12 the final opinion in Blaylock, which reinstated the original      13 opinion and vacated the order granting en banc hearing in the      14 case. And that final opinion is at 275 F.3d 1030. I'm going to      15 agree with the concurrence in saying that since the guidelines      16 have now been amended so that they provide a more simple basis      17 for figuring this when the chemicals have not actually been      18 turned into methamphetamine, and that is to use the tables on      19 precursor chemicals. I'm going to do that. And I'm going to      20 use the table at 2D1.11, again, on page 144 of the guidelines      21 manual. 22       And in using the precursor chemicals and accepting the      23 testimony of the witness Kelly, Section 2D1.11(4) would provide      24 that at least 100 grams -- at least 100 grams but less than 300      25 grams of pseudoephedrine would be a level 32. Accepting the	1 appears to me, that this could be less of a substantial risk      2 than others -- a smaller amount in an apartment complex, a      3 smaller amount in a housing development. 4       In this case, the manufacture was carried on outside.      5 Taking into consideration all the facts and the testimony      6 presented -- the location of it; the fact that it was in the      7 early to -- early stages to a little way into it; the fact that      8 the only odor that has been referred to is the odor of ether;      9 the fact that in all of the cleanups, these -- this cleanup crew      10 is brought in -- that makes this no different from all of the      11 cases. And I think it's a strong argument that's made by the      12 defendants that in fact this could be applied to all      13 methamphetamine cases and simply increases the -- would increase      14 in all cases the offense level that the Sentencing Commission      15 has determined to be applicable in the first place. 16       So I think that this enhancement means something      17 different, something more. And I am not persuaded by a      18 preponderance of the evidence that in this case at the time of      19 the raid that the offense had created a substantial risk of harm      20 to human life or to the environment. So I sustain the      21 objections based on that and will disallow the enhancement of      22 three levels based on that provision of the guidelines. 23       Now let me go to the Defendant Cotney's other      24 objections. First, as to objection number one, I view this as      25 simply tied in with the victim impact provision in objection

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 176 1 six, and I'm going to deal with those together. To the extent 2 that objection number one may inject something different and say 3 that there's some basis for not including this as a part of the 4 victim impact statement simply because the defendant is charged 5 in another -- in a state indictment with this and to the extent 6 that he says he may have a defense or says he does have a 7 defense to that, I overrule that basis for it. But I'm going 8 to -- because that's -- if the State wants to charge him with 9 something and he wants to bring up his plea of guilty in this 10 case as a defense there to double jeopardy, he's free to do so. 11 But I'm dealing right now with whether this victim impact 12 enhancement is appropriate. And I'll deal with the whole thing 13 there when I get over to number six. 14 Objection number two objects to the two-point 15 enhancement for obstruction of justice. That two-point 16 enhancement for obstruction of justice is based on giving false 17 information to the probation officers and law enforcement 18 concerning the facts that happened when the raid took place, 19 that being that the defendant told them and testified today that 20 he did not know that these were police officers or sheriff's 21 deputies, law enforcement officers, that he did not know that he 22 had been told that a police dog was going to be turned loose and 23 did not try to escape and avoid arrest. I do not accept the 24 testimony of the Defendant Cotney in that regard. 25 It's my finding that the government has sustained its	October 15, 2003 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 178 1 government has moved the Court to grant a downward departure for 2 substantial assistance. That has to do with assisting the 3 government with something that will help them with convictions 4 of other law violators. 5 Acceptance of responsibility and credit for that 6 envisions a person being actually remorseful, not just saying 7 I'm sorry or saying I'm sorry I got caught and here I am, I 8 plead guilty. It's a bonus given to somebody who pleads guilty 9 when they actually are remorseful not for getting caught, but 10 for what they did, that they want to do something different and 11 that they try to straighten their lives out. And that's why 12 the guidelines gives people credit for that. 13 In this case, I'm satisfied both from the testimony of 14 the probation officer, from the testimony of others, and from 15 the testimony of the defendant himself that he has not 16 confronted what he did in this case in a remorseful way, that he 17 is very sorry that he got caught and that it happened, but that 18 he has not indicated remorse for having done it in the first 19 place and accepted the responsibility for it. I find also that 20 this is made greater by the fact that he tore up a sprinkler 21 head while he was in his cell and that he made statements 22 threatening police officers in several ways, all of which is not 23 a separate charge of threats or destruction of property but is 24 evidence that the defendant did not have the remorse for 25 committing the acts that would be appropriate for giving him the

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 177 1 burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence that the 2 police officers -- the sheriff's deputies, rather, and the drug 3 task force officers identified themselves. I find as a fact 4 that they did identify themselves; that at the time they did, 5 that they were in close enough proximity for the defendant to 6 hear their identification of them; that they were wearing 7 clearly identifiable clothes that showed them to be law 8 enforcement officers; that the K-9 officer warned the defendant 9 that he was going to turn the dog loose if the defendant didn't 10 stop; and that by a preponderance of the evidence I find that 11 this was known by the defendant; that he attempted to escape; 12 that he shot the dog in an effort to escape; and that he 13 provided false information to law enforcement and to the 14 probation officers in this regard. And I overrule objection 15 number two and will continue with the two-point enhancement for 16 obstruction of justice. 17 Objection number three has to do with not being given 18 three points for acceptance of responsibility. Acceptance of 19 responsibility is much more than simply pleading guilty. 20 Pleading guilty without actually accepting responsibility for 21 what a person did does not entitle them to acceptance of 22 responsibility credit. Credit for acceptance of responsibility 23 is a different thing from being given a departure downward for 24 assistance. Those are two entirely different things. 25 We'll get to the assistance in a little bit. The	October 15, 2003 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 179 1 benefit of a three-level or even a two-level downward 2 departure. So I agree with the probation officer's findings on 3 that, and I deny -- overrule objection number three. 4 Objection number four, I've ruled on. That was the 5 substantial risk to harm of human life or the environment. I've 6 sustained that. 7 Number five, the defendant objects to being given an 8 enhancement for being an organizer or leader in this criminal 9 activity. The evidence is clear to me from the testimony of 10 other witnesses and not rebutted by the defendant that he's the 11 one that put this together, he organized it, he got the others 12 involved in it, and that he should be given an enhancement for 13 that purpose. His role in this conspiracy was that he was the 14 organizer and leader of it. I overrule objection number five. 15 Objection number six objects to the victim-related 16 adjustment based on the creation of substantial risk of serious 17 bodily injury. I find from the facts that in this case the 18 defendant did take actions that could have resulted in serious 19 bodily injury in connection with this offense; that he 20 discharged a shotgun in the vicinity of another person in 21 killing the dog; that there could have been other people close 22 by; that -- I find as a fact and accept the testimony of the 23 officer that this defendant, while he didn't point the gun 24 directly at the officer, that was only because the officer beat 25 him to it and started shooting when he turned toward him with

United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 180 1 the gun; and that at the time the officer began shooting, he 2 then fell on the ground and things went from there; but that he 3 did create the substantial risk of serious bodily harm as a part 4 of the offense for which he -- to which he pleaded guilty, and 5 that the enhancement is appropriate. I overrule objection 6 number six. 7 Objection number seven is simply an objection to the 8 inclusion of uncharged criminal conduct. It was appropriate for 9 the probation officer to include that, along with anything else 10 that she knew about the defendant. I will not consider any of 11 that in setting the sentence. So I overrule objection number 12 seven. 13 All right. Now I'm going to the objections of the 14 Defendant Nelson. Objection number one having to do with 15 calculation of the drug amount I sustain only to the extent that 16 I will calculate it by the table I referred to earlier and will 17 set the offense level at 32. I find that the defendant's 18 contention that it should be 26 would not be appropriate in this 19 case and not fit the facts or the method -- proper method of 20 computation. And for the reasons I've stated earlier, I'll 21 sustain that objection to that extent and I overrule the 22 objection to the extent that it should be any less than 32. 23 As to the enhancement for the gun enhancement, the 24 enhancement based on the weapon being in the possession of the 25 other defendant, the coconspirator, I overrule that objection Risa L. Entrekin, RDR, CRR U.S. District Court One Church Street, Montgomery, AL 36104 334-240-2405	October 15, 2003 United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 182 1 Now, that's all the evidence that I heard regarding 2 this witness -- or rather, this Defendant Weldon's knowledge of 3 the firearm. There was no testimony that he knew it was there 4 on that morning, no testimony that he knew it was there that 5 night, only the testimony that he knew that that gun belonged to 6 Mr. Cotney. It takes more than that under the Otero case for it 7 to be foreseeable. I find that the government has not met its 8 burden of proving that it was foreseeable to Defendant Weldon 9 that this firearm would be used in connection with the drug 10 conspiracy that morning, so I sustain objection number two. 11 Objection number three, the substantial risk of harm, 12 I've ruled on that, and I sustain that. 13 The role in the offense, the defendant had asked for an 14 adjustment for a minimal role in the offense. I don't find that 15 to be appropriate because he had knowledge of the extent of the 16 conspiracy, of what was involved, full knowledge of what they 17 were doing out there. However, I do find that a two-level 18 departure downward for a minor participant would be appropriate 19 under all the facts and circumstances of the case; that he, in 20 this case, was performing what I would consider simply the role 21 of a gofer, somebody who was asked to come and do odds and ends 22 that the others could have done just as easily and got -- he was 23 gotten involved in this. He was not the cook. He was not 24 performing services that came to the level of either of the 25 other two. And under the particular facts of this case as Risa L. Entrekin, RDR, CRR U.S. District Court One Church Street, Montgomery, AL 36104 334-240-2405
United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Allen Lee Nelson, Jonathan Boyd Weldon 181 1 under the U.S. versus Otero case and the Gallo case. This is -- 2 the evidence is sufficient to hold this defendant responsible 3 because it was foreseeable, based on his knowledge, that the 4 Defendant Cotney had this weapon in his possession the night 5 before, also had this possession -- this weapon in his 6 possession at the time of this offense. It was foreseeable that 7 he may have used this weapon in protecting the drug operation 8 and as a part of the offense. So the elements of those two 9 cases are met in this case, and I overrule the objection. 10 I've ruled on the harm to the individuals and 11 environment, objection number three. I sustained that objection 12 and will not give those three enhancements. 13 All right. As to the Defendant Weldon, objection 14 number one, again, has to do with the offense level. Based on 15 the calculation of the amount for the reasons that I gave 16 earlier, I overrule or sustain the objection as appropriate to 17 the point that the offense level will be set at 32. 18 Objection number two has to do with the two-level 19 enhancement as to the possession by the Codefendant Cotney of 20 the firearm. The court reporter gave me the question and answer 21 that was what I -- and it was as I remembered it, in the 22 testimony of Officer Stewart. The question was: What did 23 Mr. Weldon say as it relates to that gun? And the answer was: 24 That the 12-gauge shotgun belonged to David Cotney that was at 25 the lab site. Risa L. So to that 3 extent, I sustain objection number four. 4 Objection number five, well, that's the calculation 5 again. So same ruling on that. 6 Objection number six as to the criminal history point, 7 I overrule that objection. The defendant concedes the age to be 8 18, so the paragraph referred to of 4A1.2(d) doesn't apply 9 because he was 18. The mere fact of what state law may have to 10 do with it being an offense or whatever, the guidelines in this 11 case are what applies. And under the federal sentencing 12 guidelines, this offense would require the calculation to be one 13 point, as done by the probation office. 14 All right. Count two provides a sentence of not 20     less than ten years consecutive to count one. 21      The United States has filed a motion for reduction of 22     sentence based on substantial assistance pursuant to Section 23     5K1.1 of the guidelines and has requested a departure downward 24     of three levels. UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

DAVID FRANKLIN COTNEY, JR.,

Defendant-Appellant.

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Middle District of Alabama

PER CURIAM:

David Franklin Cotney, Jr. appeals his sentence imposed after pleading guilty to conspiracy to manufacture methamphetamine, in violation of 21 U.S.C. § 846 (Count 1), and use and possession of a firearm in relation to the commission of Count 1, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 924(c)(1) (Count 2). Cotney claims the district court clearly erred by (1) applying an obstruction-of-justice enhancement, (2) denying him a reduction for acceptance of responsibility, (3) applying an aggravating-role enhancement, and (4) applying an enhancement for creating a substantial risk of serious bodily injury. Cotney also claims the district court impermissibly double counted his use of a firearm. The district court did not err.

I. OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE

Cotney first argues the district court erred by applying the obstruction-of-justice enhancement because no evidence established he looked at the officers before he fled or heard the officers identify themselves. Cotney stresses both Deputy Mike Parrish and Investigator Clay Stewart were far away from him when they identified themselves. Stressing he admitted his guilt, Cotney argues there is no evidence showing he lied when he denied seeing the officers or hearing them identify themselves. Citing United States v. Howard, 923 F.2d 1500 (11th Cir. 1991), Cotney states his allegedly inconsistent statement was not material, in light of his otherwise complete cooperation. Cotney also avows the probation officer's assertion Cotney could have heard the officers was merely a conclusory statement not supported by the evidence.

Clear error review is appropriate where "the district court must make a particularized assessment of the credibility or demeanor of the defendant, such as when applying the obstruction of justice enhancement for perjury." United States v. Banks, 347 F.3d 1266, 1269 (11th Cir. 2003). The government must establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, that an enhancement is applicable. United States v. Cataldo, 171 F.3d 1316, 1321 (11th Cir.1999). The government must show this through "reliable and specific evidence." Id. (internal quotations and citation omitted). "We accord great deference to the district court's credibility determinations." United States v. Gregg, 179 F.3d 1312, 1316 (11th Cir. 1999). We have also acknowledged "[t]he district court is uniquely suited to make such a determination because it heard all the evidence and was able to observe a particular witness' demeanor and behavior on the witness stand." United States v. Hasner, 340 F.3d 1261, 1277 (11th Cir. 2003) (internal quotations and citation omitted), petition for cert. filed, (U.S. Apr. 26, 2004) (No. 03-1487).

A two-level, obstruction-of-justice enhancement is appropriate if: (1) a defendant willfully obstructed or impeded "the course of the investigation, prosecution, or sentencing of the instant offense of conviction,” and (2) the obstructive conduct related to either the offense of conviction or any relevant conduct. U.S.S.G. § 3C1.1. Such an enhancement is appropriate if the defendant gave “materially false information to a probation officer in respect to a presentence or other investigation for the court.” U.S.S.G. § 3C1.1, comment (n.4(h)). “‘Material’ evidence, fact, statement, or information, as used in this section, means evidence, fact, statement, or information that, if believed, would tend to influence or affect the issue under determination.” U.S.S.G. § 3C1.1, comment (n.6).

The district court did not clearly err by finding Cotney obstructed justice. During his presentence interview, Cotney denied knowing the individuals raiding his methamphetamine laboratory were police officers, and claimed at least one arresting officer was not wearing a police uniform. The evidence, however, established the officers’ attire clearly indicated they were police. More importantly, Detective Sims testified he had identified himself multiple times as a police officer from a mere 40 feet away, and Deputy Parrish testified he had also identified himself as an police officer. Based on these facts, the probation officer maintained Cotney should have also heard Investigator Stewart identify himself. Although Cotney contends no direct evidence established he heard Investigator Stewart identify himself, Cotney admitted to hearing someone instruct him to put his hands up in the air. As a result, Cotney was within earshot of the officers, indicating he had heard the officers identify themselves.

Additionally, Cotney's misstatement was material, as his knowledge of whether police were raiding the methamphetamine laboratory was relevant in regard to an enhancement under § 3A1.2(b)(1), which concerned whether he had reasonable cause to know Deputy Parrish was a police officer when he pointed his shotgun at Deputy Parrish. See U.S.S.G. § 3A1.2(b)(1). Citing Howard, Cotney claims his substantial assistance established he would not obstruct justice. That case, however, is inapplicable because it stated an obstruction-of-justice enhancement is inappropriate where the defendant merely omitted some information in his presentence interview, which he had already told the arresting authorities. See Howard, 923 F.2d at 1504-05. Cotney's situation is distinguishable because he did not omit any information, but rather, made deliberate misrepresentations to the probation officer. Accordingly, the district court did not clearly err by applying an obstruction-of-justice enhancement.

II. ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITY

Cotney next argues the district court erred by denying him a reduction for acceptance of responsibility. He claims he did not know the individuals raiding the methamphetamine laboratory were actually officers. Again citing Howard for authority, Cotney states the fact he provided substantial assistance indicated he had accepted responsibility for his actions. Cotney also states the Government actually sought an acceptance-of-responsibility reduction for him. Finally, Cotney claims the probation officer's hearsay testimony concerning alleged threats made by him lacked the reliability necessary to support the enhancement.

"The district court's determination of whether a defendant is entitled to a reduction for acceptance of responsibility is a finding of fact which is entitled to great deference on appeal and will be affirmed unless clearly erroneous." United States v. Rodriguez, 959 F.2d 193, 195 (11th Cir.1992). We, however, review "the district court's application of the sentencing guidelines de novo." Id. The defendant bears the burden of showing he is entitled to a reduction. Howard, 923 F.2d at 1505.

The Guidelines provide for a two-level reduction if the defendant demonstrates an acceptance of responsibility for his offense. U.S.S.G. § 3E1.1(a). Evidence indicating acceptance of responsibility, such as a guilty plea and admission of the conduct of the offense may be outweighed by conduct indicating a defendant is not entitled to a reduction. U.S.S.G. § 3E1.1, comment (n.3). A defendant who receives an obstruction-of-justice enhancement under § 3C1.1, absent extraordinary circumstance, is not entitled to a reduction for acceptance of responsibility. U.S.S.G. § 3E1.1, comment (n.4).

As an initial matter, the Government only agreed Cotney was entitled to an acceptance-of-responsibility reduction “so long as [Cotney] [did] not obstruct justice or otherwise fail to accept responsibility for the offense conduct.” Therefore, the plea agreement did not bar the Government from opposing Cotney’s request for an acceptance-of-responsibility reduction.

Moreover, the district court did not clearly err by denying an acceptance-of-responsibility reduction. Cotney obstructed justice, and a reduction for acceptance of responsibility was normally inappropriate. See U.S.S.G. § 3E1.1, comment (n.4). Once again citing Howard, however, Cotney claims his substantial assistance qualified him for an acceptance-of-responsibility reduction. While this Court, in Howard, found the district court erred by not granting an acceptance-of-responsibility reduction in light of the defendant’s substantial assistance, that defendant had not obstructed justice. See Howard, 923 F.3d at 1504-06. While substantial assistance does indicate an acceptance of responsibility, Cotney committed other acts, which further indicated such a reduction was inappropriate, namely, damaging a sprinkler in prison and making threats directed at Deputy Parrish. The district court ultimately determined Cotney only regretted getting caught. The district court did not clearly err by finding Cotney had not accepted responsibility for his actions.

III. AGGRAVATING ROLE

Next, Cotney claims there was insufficient evidence to support the aggravating-role enhancement because the district court improperly relied upon a hearsay statement by one of Cotney's codefendants, Allen Lee Nelson, indicating Cotney was the coordinator of the scheme and sold most of the methamphetamine. Cotney maintains Nelson's statement was self-serving because, if not for this statement, Nelson, who was the principal manufacturer of the methamphetamine, would have received an aggravating-role enhancement. Cotney also argues no evidence distinguishes his role in the offense from the roles of the other participants. As a result, Cotney maintains, the evidence only indicated all defendants participated equally in the offense.

The district court's determination of a defendant's role in the offense is a finding of fact reviewed for clear error. United States v. Yates, 990 F.2d 1179, 1182 (11th Cir. 1993). The guidelines provide if the defendant was an organizer or leader of an activity that involved fewer than five participants, his offense level should be increased by two levels. U.S.S.G. § 3B1.1(c). Factors the court should consider in distinguishing a leadership/organizer role from a manager/supervisory role include:

the exercise of decision making authority, the nature of participation in the commission of the offense, the recruitment of accomplices, the claimed right to a larger share of the fruits of the crime, the degree of participation in planning or organizing the offense, the nature and scope of the illegal activity, and the degree of control and authority exercised over others.

U.S.S.G. § 3B1.1, comment. (n.4). More than one person may qualify as a leader or organizer of a conspiracy. Id. The government must prove the existence of an aggravating role by a preponderance of the evidence. Yates, 990 F.2d at 1182.

Hearsay testimony may be relied upon at sentencing if (1) the evidence has a sufficient indicia of reliability, (2) the court makes specific credibility findings, and (3) the defendant has an opportunity to rebut the testimony. United States v. Anderton, 136 F.3d 747, 751 (11th Cir. 1998). We have found hearsay testimony possesses a sufficient indicia of reliability if the statements of multiple individuals are consistent. United States v. Gordon, 231 F.3d 750, 760 (11th Cir. 2000).

These is sufficient evidence to support the aggravating role enhancement. According to Agent DeJohn, Nelson avowed Cotney organized the laboratory and was to receive a majority of the methamphetamine to sell. Investigator Stewart stated that, based on Cotney's proffer, he believed Cotney had organized the operation and acquired the necessary supplies. Although Nelson's statements constituted hearsay, such statements were admissible at sentencing. See Anderton, 136 F.3d at 751. Nelson's statements were reliable because they were also supported by Investigator Stewart's testimony. See Gordon, 231 F.3d at 760.

Moreover, the court found the uncontested statements credible. Finally, Cotney could have called Nelson to rebut the testimony. As a result, Nelson's hearsay testimony was admissible.

Contrary to Cotney's arguments he played a similar to the other conspirators, the record established Cotney's role as an organizer of the lab was more substantial than the roles of Nelson and Cotney, who merely cooked the methamphetamine in Cotney's lab. Accordingly, the district court did not clearly err by applying an aggravating-role enhancement.

IV. SUBSTANTIAL RISK OF BODILY INJURY

Cotney further argues the district court erred by enhancing his offense level by three levels, based upon a finding he created a substantial risk of bodily injury during his flight. Cotney first states there was no evidence showing he knew he was fleeing police. Cotney states that, after he shot Narco, a police canine, although he attempted to raise the gun, he ultimately dropped the weapon without chambering another shell or firing the gun again. Accordingly, Cotney states, he did not create a risk of serious bodily harm.

The guidelines provide for a three-level enhancement if a defendant, having a reasonable cause to believe an individual is a law enforcement officer, assaults such an officer during the immediate flight from an offense. U.S.S.G., § 3A1.2(b)(1).

The assault must have been in a manner that created “a substantial risk of serious bodily injury.” Id.

The district court did not clearly err by applying the § 3A1.2(b) enhancement to Cotney. As stated above, Cotney knew police officers were raiding his methamphetamine laboratory, based on Investigator Stewart’s identification of himself as a police officer while 40 feet away from Cotney. Moreover, Cotney clearly created a substantial risk of bodily harm while assaulting an officer. Cotney’s shooting of Narco was probably insufficient to support the enhancement, as Deputy Parrish was not next to Narco when Cotney discharged his firearm. Cotney’s turning his gun towards Deputy Parrish, however, was sufficient to justify the enhancement. Although Cotney was stopped from actually pointing his weapon at Deputy Parrish or chambering a fresh shell, Deputy Parrish, fearing for his safety, fired upon Cotney to halt his movement with the shotgun. The district court did not clearly err in applying this enhancement.

V. IMPERMISSIBLE DOUBLE COUNTING

Finally, Cotney claims the district court engaged in impermissible double counting by enhancing his offense level for the creation of a serious risk of bodily harm. He states the actions justifying this enhancement were already taken into account by his conviction under § 924(c). In support, he notes a defendant with a § 924 conviction cannot also receive an enhancement for the possession or use of a firearm.

We review a claim of double counting de novo. United States v. Matos-Rodriguez, 188 F.3d 1300, 1310 (11th Cir. 1999). “Double counting during sentencing is permissible if the Sentencing Commission intended the result, and if the result is permissible because each section concerns conceptually separate notions related to sentencing.” Id. (quoting United States v. Adeleke, 968 F.2d 1159, 1161 (11th Cir.1992)). “Further, this court presumes the Sentencing Commission intended to apply separate guideline sections cumulatively, unless specifically directed otherwise.” Matos-Rodriguez, 188 F.3d at 1310 (emphasis in original).

When a defendant is sentenced for a violation of § 924(c), the guidelines bar the application of an enhancement for weapons possession. U.S.S.G. § 2K2.4 (b), comment. (n.4). The guidelines require the district court to apply Chapter 3A, victim-related enhancements, after determining the offense guideline under Chapter 2. United States v. Jackson, 276 F.3d 1231, 1236 (11th Cir. 2001). In Jackson, we found impermissible double counting did not occur when a defendant received an enhancement under both § 2K2.1(b)(5) (possession or use of a firearm in relation to a felony offense) and § 3A1.2(b). Id. at 1235-36. In finding no double counting occurred, we noted: (1) the guidelines do not prohibit enhancements under both § 2K2.1(b)(5) and § 3A1.2(b), and (2) Chapter 2 addresses the specific conduct of offenses, while Chapter 3A deals with the victim. Id. at 1236.

The district court did not impermissibly double count Cotney's possession of a firearm. Double counting is permissible if the two guideline sections involve separate sentencing concepts. See Jackson, 276 F.3d at 1236. The punishment for violation of § 924(c) is for the use or possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime. Section 3A1.2, on the other hand, bars the creation of a substantial risk of harm involving a police officer. See U.S.S.G. § 3A1.2. As the guidelines do not bar the application of § 3A1.2 together with § 2K2.4, we presume the two sections may be applied together. See Matos-Rodriguez, 188 F.3d at 1310. Our decision in Jackson is controlling. Although the opinion involves a Chapter 2 enhancement for possession of a firearm, we ruled an enhancement pursuant to § 3A1.2 did not implicate double counting because it addresses victim harm. See Jackson, 276 F.3d at 1236. The same reasoning applies here. Accordingly, we affirm Cotney's sentence.

AFFIRMED.

(September 12, 2005)

ON REMAND FROM THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Before BLACK, CARNES and PRYOR, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:

GOVERNMENT
EXHIBIT

This case is before the Court for consideration in light of United States v. Booker, 125 S. Ct. 738 (2005). We previously affirmed Cotney's sentence. See United States v. Cotney, Case No. 03-15473 (11th Cir. Sept. 15, 2004) (unpublished). The Supreme Court vacated our prior decision and remanded the case to us for further consideration in light of Booker.

In his initial brief on direct appeal, Cotney did not assert error based on Apprendi v. New Jersey, 120 S. Ct. 2348 (2000), or any other case extending or applying the Apprendi principle. However, Cotney sought permission to file a supplemental brief to present additional arguments concerning Blakely v. Washington, 124 S. Ct. 2531 (2004). We denied Cotney's motion.

In United States v. Dockery, 401 F.3d 1261, 1262–63 (11th Cir. 2005), after the Supreme Court's remand with instructions to reconsider our opinion in light of Booker, we relied on our earlier case of United States v. Ardley, 242 F.3d 989 (11th Cir.), cert. denied, 121 S. Ct. 2621 (2001), which observed:

Nothing in the Apprendi opinion requires or suggests that we are obligated to consider an issue not raised in any of the briefs that appellant has filed with us. Nor is there anything in the Supreme Court's remand order, which is cast in the usual language, requiring that we treat the case as though the Apprendi issue had been timely raised in this Court. In the absence of any requirement to the contrary in either Apprendi or in the order remanding this case to us, we apply our well-established rule that issues and contentions not timely raised in the briefs are deemed abandoned.

Ardley, 242 F.3d at 990 (citations omitted). Thus, because Dockery had not asserted an Apprendi (or its progeny) challenge to his sentence, we reinstated our previous opinion. Dockery, 401 F.3d at 1263.

In United States v. Nealy, 232 F.3d 825, 830 (11th Cir. 2000), we denied Nealy's attempt to raise an Apprendi-based argument for the first time by filing a supplemental brief. We noted that “[p]arties must submit all issues on appeal in their initial briefs.” Nealy held supplemental briefs will be authorized only when intervening decisions or new developments arise after the moving party’s brief has been filed, and only when that new authority relates to an issue already properly raised in the party’s initial brief. Nealy further held “parties cannot properly raise new issues at supplemental briefing, even if the [new] issues arise based on the intervening decisions or new developments cited in the supplemental authority.”

Because Cotney did not assert error based on Apprendi (or its progeny) in his initial brief on appeal, we reinstate our previous opinion in this case and affirm Cotney’s sentence after our reconsideration in light of Booker, pursuant to the Supreme Court’s mandate.

AFFIDAVIT OF BRENTON LAWRENCE DEAN

STATE OF ALABAMA

LEE COUNTY

Before me, the undersigned authority, personally appeared Brenton Lawrence Dean, who, first being duly sworn by me, deposes and states as follows:

My name is Brenton Lawrence Dean, and I have been a licensed attorney at law in the State of Alabama since September 1998, and I am admitted to practice before the United States District Court for the Middle District of Alabama.

I was retained defense counsel along with Will O. (Trip) Walton, III, for David Franklin Cotney, Jr., in the case of United States of America v. David Franklin Cotney, Jr., Case No. 3:03-CR-0078-A, which resulted in a guilty plea on the 28th day of May, 2003, and a sentencing hearing on the 15th day of October, 2003. I make this Affidavit in compliance with the Court's Order of January 17, 2007, to address claims of ineffective assistance of counsel presented by Mr. Cotney in his §2255 Motion. It has now been more than three (3) years since the guilty plea and subsequent sentencing. Since I was not appellate counsel for Mr. Cotney, I have not had the benefit of having a transcript of the guilty plea or sentencing hearing. Therefore, the following responses to Mr. Cotney's allegations are based principally upon my recollection of the things that occurred up to and during the guilty plea and subsequent sentencing. In some instances, I have been able to refresh my recollection from notes, memoranda, correspondence, pleadings and other documents and tangible items. My specific responses to Mr. Cotney's allegations are as follows:

ISSUE ONE

Counsel for the defendant met with both the AUSA assigned to the case and the probation officer in an effort to get a downward departure for substantial assistance. Counsel for the defendant further met with law enforcement agents assigned to the case and Mr. Cotney for approximately five (5) hours while Mr. Cotney was questioned by said law enforcement officials concerning assistance. Based upon said assistance, Cotney was granted a three level reduction for substantial assistance. Counsel for defendant is unaware of the custom referred to by Cotney concerning the BOP and a 25% to 50% downward departure.

ISSUE TWO

If the undersigned counsel understands Issue Two, it appears that Cotney would have had his attorneys repeat the same questions as asked by Nelson's attorney during cross examination of Ms. Kelly. Because the defendant's sentencing hearing was held at the same time on the same offenses, the defense attorneys took turns questioning witnesses for the government. Surely Mr. Cotney does not contend that his attorneys should have asked Ms. Kelly the exact same questions as asked by the co-defendants' attorneys. At any rate, it is clear that Attorney Lewis, as counsel for co-defendant

Nelson, asked the appropriate questions of Ms. Kelly during the sentencing hearing which was considered by the trial judge handling the sentencing of all defendants.

ISSUE THREE

If the undersigned counsel understands Cotney's third issue, it appears that he is complaining that the sentencing Judge violated guidelines in his Sentencing Order which should have been addressed on appeal to the Eleventh Circuit. Because the case was appealed and due to the fact that the undersigned counsel took no part in the appeal, said counsel simply cannot address this issue other than to say that he recalls no surprise announcement by the trial court regarding punishing Cotney for pseudoephedrine rather than methamphetamine. Furthermore, at no time did Cotney advise the undersigned counsel that he wished to have a jury trial nor would undersigned counsel have recommended that Cotney undergo a jury trial based on the facts and circumstances as relayed by Mr. Cotney.

ISSUE FOUR

Although there are several issues set forth in Issue Four, it would appear that the undersigned counsel has been accused of failing to introduce photographs in his possession to prove that the officers were lying regarding whether or not they were in uniform or plain clothes at the time Cotney was arrested. If memory serves counsel, one or more of the arresting officers were questioned regarding whether or not they were wearing a uniform or plain clothes at the time of their encounter with Cotney. Upon further examination, one or more of the officers testified that the photographs taken at the scene depicting them in plain clothes were taken the following day during their follow up investigation and cleanup of the scene. Of course, counsel would defer to the sentencing hearing transcript regarding exactly what was asked and said. Furthermore, counsel for Cotney made an issue regarding whether or not law enforcement properly identified themselves as "law enforcement" as they approached and/or chased Cotney.

ISSUE FIVE

The undersigned counsel does not recall Agent DeJohn's specific testimony regarding Cotney being the ring leader in financing the meth lab, but does recall being told by the investigating probation officer (Jo Ann Sellers) that co-defendants Nelson and Weldon informed her during her interview that Cotney was the ring leader who financed and supervised everything. If memory serves counsel, Sellers testified to said statements at the sentencing hearing but counsel would defer to said transcript of the hearing. At any rate, the undersigned counsel has no specific recollection of Agent DeJohn's specific testimony as stated by Cotney.

ISSUE SIX

Counsel for the defendant has no independent recollection of negotiations of the plea bargain, but according to his file, it appears that Cotney refused to plea with the ten (10) year minimum mandatory language contained in the plea agreement regarding the discharging of a weapon. Based upon his refusal, the AUSA agreed to remove the "discharge" language from the plea regarding the discharge of the weapon by Cotney. However, counsel for the defendant explained to Cotney that he would be looking at a ten (10) year minimum mandatory at sentencing although we had arguments to the contrary. Obviously, arguments in that regard were not well taken by the Trial Court.

On May 27, 2003, the entire plea agreement was read to the defendant, paragraph by paragraph, while his father listened on the phone. Based upon the facts and circumstances surrounding the case and the discharging of the shotgun by Cotney, counsel does not understand why Cotney believes the AUSA should not have been allowed to argue discharge as a basis for enhancement at the sentencing hearing. Furthermore, there was no agreement between the Government and defense counsel that the AUSA could not argue for an enhancement due to Cotney's discharging of his firearm.

Respectfully submitted this the 29 day of January, 2007.
